Trial Was Set For Raping White Woman

Enter While Sheriff Is Away; Special FBI Force Sent In

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Gun-wielding terrorists—faces masked and hands gloved—dragged a screaming Negro who was charged with raping a white woman from his jail cell Saturday. They vanished into the dark and wooded hills of southern Mississippi.

The night raiders left little for hurrying FBI agents to pin a search on, and a sheriff's posse failed to uncover a trace of the mob and its victim.

Officials had little hope for survival of the victim, Mack Charles Parker, 23, a truck driver in this prosperous timber, cattle and tung oil town about 100 miles south of Jackson, the state capital.

Fellow Negro prisoners, still nervous from the brutal raid, described the scene.

A raider shouted at the beaten, bloody victim: "Why did you do it?"

"I didn't do it," screamed Parker.

In minutes, Parker began saying other people had done it and naming them. Then he pointed to one of his fellow Negro prisoners. "He did it," he said.

The raiders dragged Parker from the building by his heels, his head bumping from steel tread to steel tread of the stairs. Blood flicked about marked progress of the party, a bloody handprint on the door step giving the last trace of Parker, who screamed and struggled as the getaway cars sped away.

Parker was charged with raping a 24-year-old white woman from Petal, Miss., in adjoining Forrest County, in the presence of her five-year-old daughter last February. His trial was to have started Monday.

Sheriff W. O. Moody of Pearl River County said he believed the vigilantes either had taken Parker from the area or dumped him into some water.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover quickly ordered a special team of agents into Poplarville. Two arrived in midmorning.

The posse scoured the wooded lands and the red clay hills. Parker was taken from the unguarded jail in the predawn hours by 15 or 20 men.

Five terrified Negro prisoners watched the kidnapping under the harsh warning to "keep your mouth shut." The raiding party took the cell key from Sheriff Moody's empty office but needed directions from other prisoners to open Parker's cell.

Moody normally leaves the jail unguarded. He continued routine, he said, because he had no indication feeling was running high against Parker.

Gov. J. P. Coleman, obviously disturbed, deplored the kidnapping and said he would have taken precautionary measures "if I had any

Three Plead Guilty To Postoffice Robbery

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Three Marshall, Mo., men arrested in a field where a stolen safe was found, pleaded guilty to postoffice robbery.

They were charged with breaking into the Shackleford, Mo., Post Office last March 17, and taking $138 in cash and $122 in stamps. The men were arrested the following day when they went into a field to open the safe.

U. S. District Judge Richard M. Duncan yesterday sentenced Thomas Noojin, 36, to serve five years in prison. Franklin E. Evans, 19, and Larry E. Grandstaff, 18, were sentenced to serve indeterminate sentences under the Youth Corrections Act.

Herter Will Push For Unity To Seek United Western Front In Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Christian A. Herter was reported resolved Saturday to push for a united Western front this week at his first international conference as secretary of state.

At the same time, Herter and Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, agreed there is no point now to including members of Congress in the U.S. delegation to the East-West Geneva meeting on the German crisis starting May 11.

The State Department said that after an informal discussion, Herter and Fulbright had left the door open to possible congressional attendance at a later stage if it then seemed desirable.

Herter arranged to leave for Paris Monday afternoon with a plane full of advisers.

Although Herter has been abroad twice before during his two years as No. 2 man in the State Department and has had extensive international experience, the forthcoming negotiations promise to tax to the utmost the mettle of the successor to John Foster Dulles.

The Paris conference, slated to start April 29, will bring together the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany. The four powers are working on proposals to put to the Soviets at the Geneva parity.

The Reds touched off the current crisis by threatening to oust the Western powers from West Berlin. After intensive preparatory talks among state officials which ended in London last Thursday, the Western Allies still had not ironed out differing views on how to proceed in bargaining with the Soviet Union.

Some officials figured no more than 50 per cent agreement had been reached on what strategy to follow. A point particularly at issue is how to assure European security. The British apparently still insist on offering some kind of central European arms control plan not necessarily linked to progress toward achieving German reunification.

Americans, French and West Germans were reported sticking to their view that any such plan must be tied to a step-by-step move toward merging East and West Germany.

Herter plans to return to Washington May 3, then fly back to Geneva after a stay of about five days in this country. There is general expectation the Geneva session will be followed later in the summer by a summit conference of heads of state.

Prisoners Follow Suit In People-Packing

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Just as college lads are trying to see how many can stuff their way into sports cars or telephone booths so, too, have the undergraduates of Missouri's "Stone College"—the State Penitentiary.

Lacking sports cars or telephone booths, they stacked 17 men in a wheelbarrow, reports the prison newspaper, the "Jefferson Journal."

Los Angeles' 62-Day Dry Spell Is Broken

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It rained in Los Angeles Saturday breaking a record spring dry spell of 62 days.

By midafternoon, .03 of an inch had fallen at the Weather Bureau's downtown station. The last measurable rain fell in the city Feb. 21.

Senate Passes Kennedy Bill For Regulating Labor, 90-1

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Saturday passed by an overwhelming 90-1 margin the Kennedy labor regulation bill aimed at routing racketeers and thugs from unions.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) cast the lone negative vote. Passage came a few hours after approval of a toned-down substitute for the McClellan "bill of rights" amendment.

The bill sponsored by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) now goes to the House, where similar legislation died last year. But its backers there said it has a better chance this session. House hearings on bills along the same line already are under way.

The similar bill which the Senate passed last year was sponsored by Kennedy and former Sen.

Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.). After it was killed in the House, Republicans and Democrats sought during the succeeding months of the political campaign to place on each other the blame for its death.

The measure passed Saturday makes the most extensive changes in the Taft-Hartley law since that act was passed in 1947.

Some of these changes are strongly desired by organized labor. The AFL-CIO had said it would fight the measure if the changes were not retained.

The Senate adopted 35 amendments and defeated 15 in 9 days of floor debate.

Kennedy succeeded in fighting off all major amendments he opposed head-on except the bill of rights proposal in its original form.

This amendment, offered by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Labor-

Management Committee, was put in Wednesday by a dramatic 47-46 vote.

But the provision was considerably toned down Saturday by adoption of a substitute which Kennedy said protected the operating procedures of unions, but still offered guarantees of basic rights to union members. McClellan also approved the substitute.

Kennedy bore the main brunt of the argument in turning back two major McClellan amendments—to write into the bill sharp provisions aimed at blackmail and organizational picketing and at secondary boycotts.

The Eisenhower administration had insisted that any effective bill must contain provisions on these points.

Kennedy contended that the two McClellan proposals would directly hurt legitimate labor interests. But McClellan said the amendments were needed because the influence of such men as Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa was spreading in the labor movement.

Sen. Goldwater told the Senate he was voting against the bill because he said it failed to meet conditions exposed by McClellan's Senate rackets committee.

The great bulk of the bill was not disturbed in the floor debate. The principal antiracketeering provisions would require unions to make detailed financial reports which would be open to public inspection; set up procedures for fair elections with secret ballots and a limitation on terms of officers; ban persons convicted of serious crimes from serving as union officials for prescribed periods; control trusteeships by international unions over locals and

Fire Knocks Out Nonunion Coal Works

$200,000 Blaze In Kentucky Fields, Arsonists Blamed

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — Fire, labeled as arson, knocked out a non-union coal operation Saturday, while National Guard motorcades converged on the center of violence in eastern Kentucky's strike-bound coal fields.

State police blamed the $200,000 fire at the Ashlo Coal Co. on arsonists.

Some 24 hours earlier 450 pickets had threatened to take over the same plant — causing Gov. A. B. Chandler to send in the guardsmen.

Only advance units of the four battalions moving in had arrived when the fire broke out. But vehicles carrying the rest of the 2,000 troops wound their way into the hill country during the day.

Their arrival brought little apparent reaction. But a bystander here told Associated Press photographer H. B. Littell: "Look at the kids they're sending in here to handle a bunch of unhappy men. Somebody's going to get hurt before this thing is over."

Maj. Gen. J. J. B. Williams, Kentucky adjutant general, said when told of the statement: "These kids can grow up mighty fast. They are trained to work as a unit. They will work in concert with older men, many of them veterans of World War II and the Korean War."

After conferring with his staff and state police, Williams announced guardsmen would be concentrated here and near Whitesburg.

He said state police would patrol the area and guardsmen would be moved in force wherever necessary to "maintain law and order and keep roads open."

Williams asserted the guardsmen are not strikebreakers and will not be used as watchmen at individual coal operations.

The general said all troops had been quartered in buildings — mainly school gymnasiums and church buildings—in Perry and Letcher counties.

St. Lawrence Seaway Is Opened Saturday

MONTREAL (AP) — The St. Lawrence Seaway, a giant system of canals and locks that reaches to the Great Lakes and the heart of North America, was opened Saturday to ships from the seven seas.

The 475-million-dollar project had been debated by the U. S. and Canadian governments for 50 years, then was completed by 15,000 workers in five years.

The 5,678-ton Canadian icebreaker D'Iberville, a veteran of the Arctic, carrying officials, Canadian parliamentarians, U. S. senators and congressmen and newsmen, raised anchor shortly after 8 a.m. and moved into the seaway entrance at Montreal's Jacques Cartier Bridge. The D'Iberville was not needed to crack ice, for there wasn't enough to bother.

She led at a stately pace a 35-mile long queue of 55 ocean-going ships, flying the flags of many countries, and 23 canallers.

Car horns honked, ships blew their whistles, and hundreds of onlookers waved as the D'Iberville inched into the St. Lambert Lock, the first of seven that will lift the convoy a total of 224 feet to the level of Lake Ontario.

At Ogdensburg, N. Y., at the western end of the Massena Locks another flotilla of 33 Canadian cargo ships started their east-bound passage of the seaway.

Another icebreaker, the Montcalm, and four 250-foot Canadian canallers followed the D'Iberville westward. Then came the first ocean ship to enter the canal, the Dutch freighter, Prins Willem George Frederik.

There were no formal ceremonies to mark the opening of traffic to Great Lakes ports as far as 2,400 miles inland. The formal dedication will be June 26 when President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth II of Britain will participate.

The seaway, a joint U. S. Canadian venture, opens a new era for ports ringing the five Great Lakes, which are in effect transformed into another of the world's great seas. Eighty per cent of the world's shipping now can reach these ports.

Before the seaway they were blocked by 21 small, rock-lined locks with wooden gates which lifted or lowered ships of less than 250-foot length to the water levels between Montreal and Lake Ontario.

The old locks, some built 50 years ago, took the ships around a series of rapids in the St. Lawrence River. Now the deep, broad seaway, with its big canyon-like locks, will take ships up to 730 feet long carrying 25,000 tons of cargo.

Between 1954 and 1959, Schriever said, the Air Force has given the Army nearly 4,500 documents on space and missile problems, but withheld 28.

These 28, he added, involved "contractors' proprietary information, preliminary studies, inconclusive findings, internal Air Force administrative affairs, or could not be released in accordance with security regulations."

When Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) asked why security rules should prevent one military service from giving information to another, Schriever replied that certain "very sensitive intelligence" often cannot even be distributed throughout a single service.

Schriever also said "Eventually the missile will take over as the predominant weapon with manned bombers as the complement." But for some time to come, he said, the country will have to continue its multibillion dollar spending on aircraft as well as the newer missile programs.

Hennings, Symington Vote for Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Hennings and Symington, Missouri Democrats, voted for a substitute "bill of rights" amendment offered by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) and others to the labor bill. The Senate approved the amendment 77-14.

Khrushchev Dislikes Test Ban Proposal

Says Ike's 30-Mile Height Limit Would Not Solve Problem

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev says President Eisenhower's plan to halt nuclear tests at altitudes up to 30 miles "will not solve the problem."

People would be justified in regarding such a ban, alone, "an unfair deal," he added.

Without using words flatly rejecting Eisenhower's proposal of April 13, Khrushchev said the Soviet Union would be satisfied only with an agreement to ban nuclear tests anywhere.

In fact, Khrushchev said he thought "it is quite possible to find such a solution to the problem of ending tests, on the basis of your proposals and ours, as would meet the interests of the nuclear nations as well as those of all the other countries."

Khrushchev's letter replying to Eisenhower was handed to the State Department Friday and made public Saturday by the official Tass news agency. A similar message was sent to Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain, who supported Eisenhower's stand.

A Radio Moscow broadcast heard in London quoted Tass as saying Khrushchev's message to Macmillan covered much the same ground as the one to Eisenhower. It added, however, that Khrushchev was taking a "positive attitude" toward some Macmillan ideas on ending the deadlock over on-the-spot nuclear test ban inspection. It said Macmillan submitted these ideas during his recent visit to Moscow.

"Macmillan's proposal for determining in advance for each country the number of annual trips by inspection teams to the site might provide a sound foundation for success in solving the problem of stopping the tests of atomic and hydrogen weapons," the message was quoted as saying.

Contrary Great Lakes

HIGH AND DRY THROUGH WATER CHANGES — Walter Baetz of Harbor Beach, Mich., stands on his dock, now isolated by the dropping water level at Lake Huron. He last was able to use his boat lift, visible at end of dock, in 1957. He had problems as early as 1952 of another sort. At that time the lake was washing his front lawn. The vagaries of water level in the Great Lakes is a vexing and costly problem which is accentuated by the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway Saturday. (AP Wirephoto)

Some Vision Engagement Soon

Princess Margaret Leaves Heart With Italian Prince

ROME (AP) — Princess Margaret bade a private farewell to her Italian prince Saturday, then flew off to Paris in a pout. The story is that mama upbraided her for staying too long at the prince's villa.

This one jarring note did not sour the hearts-and-flowers chorus in the Rome press. The newspapers said he was leaving her heart behind in custody of Prince Henry of Hesse, handsome and 31. One paper said you could expect an engagement announcement before too long.

The prince did not see Princess Margaret and Queen Mother Elizabeth off at the airport.

The more romantic Roman newspapers said the prince, the 28-year-old British princess' almost constant companion on her gay, five-day holiday in Rome, might follow her to Paris. If he does he'll have to hurry.

The last day in Rome for the princess began on hardly a romantic note. She and her mother went off to some stables outside Rome to see the Italian race horse, Ribot. Prince Henry wasn't in sight.

The queen mother and the princess left in separate automobiles. Newsmen trailing along behind were stopped for five minutes by police. When their cars caught up again, they found the queen mother riding ahead. They followed to the British Embassy, where the queen mother and her daughter stayed during the visit. Still no Margaret. Police in the royal escort were questioned.

"She went off to see a friend," one of them said.

What friend? Prince Henry, a police official finally acknowledged.

Second-Hand Atom Smasher Is for Sale

CHICAGO (AP) — You can finally buy that second-hand atom smasher you've been looking for. It'll be on sale Monday through a Chicago Daily News classified advertisement.

"Bargain special of the atomic age," the owner says.

The University of Chicago is selling the 200-ton betatron because it now uses larger ones in atomic research. It originally cost $450,000.

A university official said, "We'll negotiate about the price with prospective buyers. We don't know what to ask for it since, to our knowledge, there has never been a sale like this before."

Being Coy

Will it or won't it? That's what everyone trying to plan for today was wondering Saturday while gazing at the hazy sky.

April always was a teaser.

Mostly cloudy north Sunday, cooler central and southwest, highs 60s north; widely scattered showers north and central; Monday partly cloudy.

The temperature Saturday was 51 at 7 a.m. and 79 at 1 p.m. The low Friday night was 56.

The temperature one year ago today, high 62, low 46; two years ago, high 81, low 60; and three years ago, high 86, low 51, with 1.4 inch of moisture.

Wesley Methodist Dedicated Today; Grew Out of Post-Civil War Dispute

Rapid Growth Of Group Leads To New Building

By HAZEL LANG

There was a strong feeling between the North and the South after the Civil War that even went into the churches of some faiths. One was the Methodist faith, so there were two distinct groups, Southern Methodists and Northern Methodists.

Since Sedalia was in the Sedalia circuit of the Southern Methodist group, a meeting was held in a private room at the second floor of a Main Street building, and it was here that Methodist Episcopal Church South in this city was born.

Under the direction of the Rev. Preston Phillips, a former resident of Sedalia, the church was organized as a pastoral charge, and a little frame church, 35 feet wide and 60 feet long, was built at the northeast corner of Third and Massachusetts at a cost of $3,500. It was dedicated in August, 1871, by Bishop Marvin.

By 1873 the membership had grown to 64 and in 15 years it had reached 100, and doubled in the next ten years. It was a pretty little church with an organ in the northwest corner. Just who was the first organist is not remembered but while the congregation was still in the little frame church, a lovely young girl played that organ and some of the present members of the Wesley Methodist Church which will be dedicated today remember her vividly and how pretty she looked at that organ.

The little frame church still stands and is now the Heynen Monument Co.

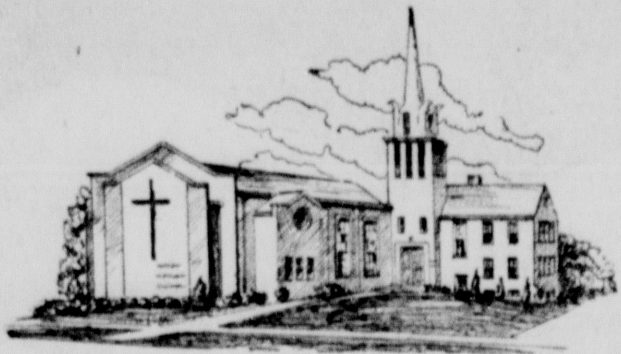

The growth of the little church was so fast that it was necessary to build a larger church. This was a brick building located at Fifth and Osage, and carried the same name, Methodist Episcopal Church, South. This church was dedicated in 1891 at the time the Rev. A. R. Faris was pastor.

Right from the first there were defects in that church, and in ten years the congregation realized that something had to be done because the church was condemned.

In 1891 it was torn down and replaced by the building that stood at Fifth and Osage where now there is a parking lot. At the time of the construction of that red brick church with its cut stone trimmings and its beautiful stained glass windows, the Rev. Felix R. Hill, Jr., was pastor.

This church had a full basement with kitchen, dining room, and furnace room and the sanctuary, church parlor and a couple of classrooms. A pipe organ was installed instead of the little pump organ of the frame church.

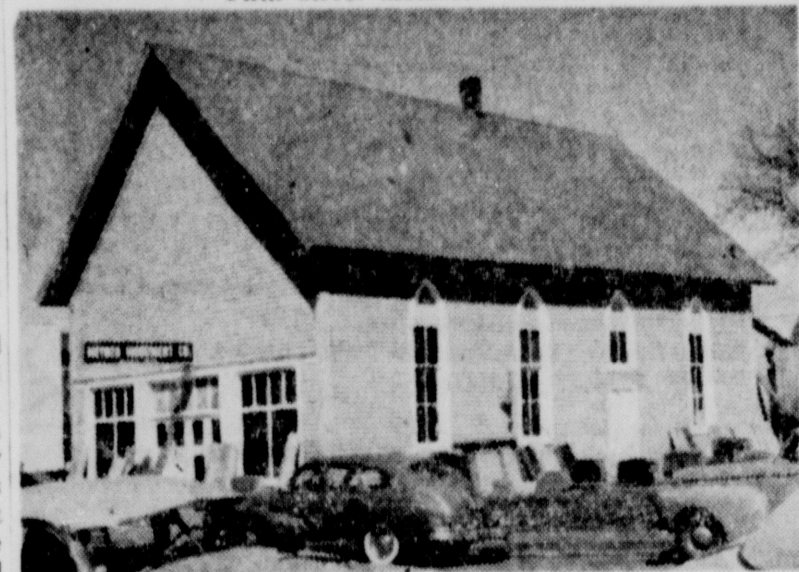

Many of the Wesley Methodists were baptized and grew up in this church of which they have such vivid memories. They recall teachers that they loved particularly and thought were very beautiful, they remember things they did and programs they were on. They worked at church dinners, chili suppers, and ice cream socials. The ice cream socials as money making projects, however, and the choir loft, but there were still classroom problems. The older members in Methodistism who remembered so bitterly the heartaches of the Civil War became fewer. Younger people felt that the division of the church was wrong and began talking unification. But those who had been crushed and hurt and had loved ones killed couldn't see it.

There were ministers of the church they remember and the lovely wives of ministers. There were ministers children. There was the choir, and many remember singing in that choir, they remember favorite soloists through the years. They remember, too, that for many years there were not enough classrooms in the building and there was a time when the teenager was somewhat neglected. At a certain age they went into adult classes and a number of them, especially boys, left to go to other churches—or not to go to church at all.

Then came the realization of what was happening and a stress was put upon youth in the church. Classes were organized as the youngsters came to the age they needed to be put somewhere and every conceivable spot became a classroom, even the furnace room and the choir loft, but there were still classroom problems. The older members in Methodistism who remembered so bitterly the heartaches of the Civil War became fewer. Younger people felt that the division of the church was wrong and began talking unification. But those who had been crushed and hurt and had loved ones killed couldn't see it.

"I hope there will never be a unification of the North and the South in Methodism as long as I live," they would say, and in Sedalia there wasn't. The unification came after those who remembered had died.

But, when the unification came there had to be a change in the name. It couldn't go on being the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and so it was renamed Fifth Street Methodist, for the street on which it stood.

The need for the additional classrooms became greater, and a building fund was started to add classrooms. Then came the idea for the new church which was built on the corner of Broadway and Carr. Here again there had to be a change in name—it could no longer be the Fifth Street Methodist Church. From a number of names the Wesley Methodist was selected, and in less than five years after the groundbreaking, the church was paid for. To the congregation who counted on close to 20 years to pay for it, the achievement seems hardly possible. They are proud and happy to dedicate this debt-free church today, and on the same day, have the groundbreaking for a new parsonage.

Chiropractic Office Opens In Tipton

Rev. Pope Resigns Pastorate

By Mrs. Denzie Boring
WARSAW—Rev. Martin T. Pope has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Warsaw Christian Church after ten years of continuous service to the Warsaw vicinity. His congregation has more than doubled during his pastorate. At the present Rev. Pope has no plans, but has sold his property to Archie Procter. Recently Rev. Pope was selected as Missouri's rural minister of the year by the Department of Cooperation and Development at the planning council held at Sedalia. He will receive recognition as minister of the year at the state convention to be held at Columbia. The local congregation had a dinner in his honor Sunday, April 19.

The Women's Missionary Council of the Warsaw Assembly of God Church met with Mrs. Mary Jackson April 7, 1959, for an all-day meeting. Eleven ladies were present with a covered dish luncheon at the noon hour. Mrs. Jackson, president, gave the devotional and prayer was in unison. The Bible lesson was from Mark 14:1-6. The ladies pieced quilts and made plans to send a contribution for the missionaries to the Assembly of God Council being held in St. Louis soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Heizman and children, Linda and Johnnie, were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morgan of Chilhowee.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurio Atkins were Sunday guests of their daughter, Mrs. Lowell Moore and Mr. Moore in Warrensburg.

Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Hampton and son of Kansas City visited with her mother, Mrs. Anna Bennett and son, G. W., during the week.

Mrs. Joyce Reynolds of Marshall was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bell the past week.

Buddy Crompton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lenn Crompton of the state of Washington visited with relatives and friends in Warsaw recently.

Those visiting with Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Hammond were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Olen Downs and son of Sedalia, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Preuit and children of Sedalia, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Thorne and children of Raytown, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Downs of the state of Arizona, enroute to Pontiac, Michigan and Misses Willa Mae Pippin and Carolyn Fishback of Cross Timbers.

Education Tour By Students At Knob Noster

By Mrs. Russell Kendrick
KNOB NOSTER—Forty-six children from the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades and two high school girls in Knob Noster, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Peterman, and Mrs. R. M. Scott, seventh grade teachers, Mrs. George Barnett, sixth grade teacher, and Mrs. Jack Thomas, high school teacher, went on a student and adult educational tour to Chicago over the weekend. The trip was sponsored by the Burlington Railroad. The group left Friday and returned Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dawes, Patricia and Prissilla, Wellington, Kan., spent the weekend in Knob Noster with his mother, Mrs. R. W. Dawes and with Mrs. Dawes's sister, Mrs. Ina Richeson. Miss Sue Richeson, who teaches in Wichita, Kan., accompanied them to Knob Noster to visit over the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Richeson.

Members of the Knob Noster Garden Club met in the office at the Knob Noster State Park Friday morning. John Repp, superintendent of the park, briefed the group on facts about the park. He escorted the group to various parts of the park in search of wild flowers and on to Camp Bob White. They inspected the dining lodge and ate their sack lunches in the recreation hall, and also held their regular monthly business meeting there.

Four new members were pres-

Du Pont Official Speaks On Imperatives at Kiwanis Meet

Failure of millions of Americans to understand the fundamentals of freedom's strength contains the seeds of potential disaster, Wyatt F. De Loache, Midwest manager of the Du Pont Company's extension division, told Sedalia Kiwanis at their meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

In a speech entitled "Three Imperatives for Tomorrow," he said that principles, to survive in a democracy, have to be understood; otherwise the people can unwittingly destroy them. He declared that it was everyone's responsibility "to see to it that every American achieves basic understanding of the source of freedom's strength so that our country shall not lose by complacency and default, what no enemy has ever been able to take from us by force — our existence as a free people, under God."

"In spite of the importance of a dynamic industrial economy both as a creator of material progress and as the physical bulwark of freedom's strength, I can think of no area about which misunderstanding is so widespread, or where the fires of misunderstanding seem to be so studiously stoked," he said.

He called this situation "paradoxical" because of the many problems which our country faces. He stated that "if certain of the major ones are to be solved at all, they will have to be solved by the team effort of science and industry."

De Loache pointed out that for continued progress a free nation must draw its strength from its individuals.

In spite of America's need for strong individuals, we have all seen forces at work which tend to discourage their development. There has arisen a cult of mediocrity which portrays as socially undesirable people who seek to excel. This cult would submerge the head of the individual under the waves of the socialist sea. We must forever guard against the furtherance of the point of view which attributes merit to mediocrity, and attaches a stigma to success."

In identifying the three factors which he advanced as imperative for continued progress, De Loache listed first, the need for strong, capable individuals; second, the formation of teams which can cope successfully with unsolved problems; and third, the need for the combined financial strength of savings of many people to undertake the large and formidable risks.

De Loache said we must look to our children as our greatest resource. From their ranks, he said, must come tomorrow's statesmen, philosophers, creators, inventors, scientists, and engineers.

But, he warned: "Popular concern about Johnny's inability to read and his neglect of mathematics and science is quite understandable at the dawn of the space age; however, there can be a failure even more serious to our nation. That would be Johnny's failure to understand his heritage of freedom. He must be taught men cease to be free to the extent that they detach themselves from responsibility for the consequence of their own acts."

The speaker was introduced by John G. Crawford who assisted Howard D. Keele, chairman, in arranging the program.

The club's appreciation was expressed by President Sylvan Woolery to R. A. Malone for framing the local organization's charter received 37 years ago.

R. C. Hemphill introduced four Smith-Cotton High School students who received citizenship awards, and were guests of the club. They were: Judy Damm and Wilton Ray (February); Peggy Robb and John Gottschamer (March).

Invocation was by the Rev. E. F. Rohlfing. Singing was led by the Rev. Arthur E. Schmidt with Miss Lillian Fox, accompanist.

Joe Barnes, Kansas City, was a guest of Chris Rouse; and Charles Maggard, guest of the Rev. Roy Stribling.

Old Trails Council Meets On April 30

The semi-annual meeting of Old Trails Council will be held at Flat Creek Inn on April 30 at 6:30 p.m. All adult volunteers and their husbands are urged to attend. You may get your tickets from your neighborhood chairman.

Troop 22 of Washington School celebrated their fourth birthday with a party. The girls invited their mothers as their guests. Each girl was given a membership star and a world pin. After the presentation, the girls and their guests were served ice cream and birthday cake which was appropriately decorated with "Happy Birthday, Troop 22."

Brownie Troop 36 of Sacred Heart School visited the Town and Country shoe factory. Mr. Chapman conducted the tour. The girls were given materials to use in handicraft work. Mrs. Harry McNamara and Mrs. John J. McGrath are the leaders.

Intermediate Troop 17 of Horace Mann School met April 20. Josephine Dickey opened the meeting and Sylvia Thompson collected the dues. The girls discussed the things they had done throughout the year, and Harriet Yessen and Patty Morrow were elected to take care of the scrapbook. The girls then had a Sewing Bee working together on the Active Citizen and My Troop badge. During this time, Mrs. J. W. VanDerEnt took each girl aside and checked her out on badges. Two Girl Scout songs were sung and Donna Lowler closed the meeting. Mrs. J. W. VanDerEnt is the leader, and Mrs. Bertha Cairer is the assistant leader.

Award of $25 As Prize to Club At Houstonia

On Tuesday, April 14, Miss Mary E. Tevebaugh, Mrs. J. C. Higgins and Robert Gregory of Houstonia went to Jefferson City where Robert attended the sophomore pilgrimage sponsored by the Missouri Federation of Women's club. There were over four hundred sophomores in attendance. These students are chosen by the teachers and the pupils of the school and only one sophomore is allowed to go from each school. Robert toured the capital and attended the legislature. The governor proclaimed April 14 sophomore day. The luncheon for the sophomores was at the Governor Hotel. There they heard the governor, Attorney General Dalton and the M.F.W.C. president, Mrs. Biggs Holliday, Louisiana. They also visited the highway department and the Cole county museum. Mrs. Higgins and Miss Tevebaugh attended the legislative luncheon at the Missouri Hotel where Sen. George Spencer presided. Attorney General Dalton and Lt. Gov. Long were also speakers as were other representatives and senators. They also attended a state board meeting in the afternoon.

On Wednesday the following attended the spring convention of the MFWC: Miss Tevebaugh, Fifth District president; Mrs. J. C. Higgins, community achievement chairman of Fifth District; Mrs. Amos Rhinehart, Mrs. Homer Cunningham, Mrs. Sidney Hoard, Mrs. Hayman Higgins. The Houstonia Woman's Club received $25 as third prize in the Fifth District community achievement contest. First was Fayette receiving $75 and Nevada second receiving $50. The Fifth District also received $75 for having the most clubs to enter the Community Achievement contest, which is sponsored by Sears. They also received $15 for having the most new clubs in the state. There are four new clubs, two in Jefferson City, one in Marshall and one in Fayette. The speaker at the luncheon at the Governor Hotel was the general federation second vice president, Mr. Carroll Miller, Missoula, Mont.

Tiny Eatery Fills With Name Stars

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Any night you might find the place filled with such avid diners as Greta Garbo, Marlon Brando, Red Buttons, Gloria Swanson, Igor Stravinsky, James Arness, John Saxon, Peter Brown or Edd Byrnes.

Where's this? No Chasen's or Romanoff's but a tiny, checkered-tablecloth eatery on the Sunset Strip called the Aware Inn. Here some of the above celebrities dine not occasionally, but every night. Reason: Only at the Aware Inn can they get food as pure as nature made it.

And what food? How about trying a "swinger"—ground steak, fertile egg yolk, wheat germ, cheese, onion, green pepper, olives, tomato, all grilled together? (I tried it—delicious!) Other items include alfalfa-mint tea and dandelion root coffee.

"I put those things on the menu to give people something different," explained Jim Baker, handsome, bearded Marine veteran (Guadalcanal, Silver Star) who runs the Aware Inn. "The big selling point is the organic food."

By organic food, he means fruits and vegetables that have not been treated with chemical or artificial fertilizers or poisonous sprays. The meat comes from cattle that have not been injected with a synthetic hormone to soften and fatten the animals. The milk products are neither pasteurized nor homogenized, though their purity is government-certified.

Does eating such things make you healthier? You can hear arguments on both sides. But enough of the Hollywood crowd, famous and otherwise, believe so to make the Aware Inn a rousing success.

Houstonia WSC Elects Officers

The WSC of the Houstonia Methodist Church met with a covered dish dinner Wednesday at the parsonage with the Rev. and Mrs. F. L. Waid as hostesses. There were 19 present. Mrs. Dwight Lowrey gave a part of the study on "Isaiah Speaks" in the morning followed by a play with following taking parts: Mrs. Earl Gregory, Mrs. Hall Walk, Mrs. G. H. Tevebaugh, Mrs. Clinton Lowrey, Mrs. Dwight Lowrey, and Miss Florence Rothrock.

After dinner the business meeting with the vice president, Mrs. Hall Walk presiding, elections of officers was held with the following being chosen by acclamation: President, Miss Mary E. Tevebaugh; vice president, Mrs. Clinton Lowrey; secretary, Mrs. L. P. Welborn; treasurer, Mrs. George Geotze; promotion secretary, Mrs. Hall Walk; Christian social relations, Mrs. Jack Morris; children, Mrs. Earl Gregory; literature and publications, Mrs. Marion Houchen; spiritual life, Mrs. C. F. Wickler; status of women, Mrs. Oscar Rothrock; supply, Mrs. Clay Houchen. A report was given by those attending the spring conference at Clinton. Mrs. George was the leader of the afternoon program with several assisting.

Mary A. Schumaker Serving at Norfolk

Navy Wave Mary A. Schumaker yeoman seaman, USN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schumaker, LaMonte, is serving at the Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va.

Matter of FACT

The first screw-driven (steam) naval ship in the world was built for the United States Navy in 1844. The ship, the USS Princeton, was equipped with sails, because the steam plant was not meant for full-time use. About the same time the Navy got its first iron vessel, the USS Michigan, which remained in service for almost 100 years until 1942 when it was scrapped.

Service Guild Meets With Mrs. Luchs

The regular meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild, First Methodist Church, was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Luchs, 924 West Third, Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Lucille Shy, assistant hostess. After refreshments were served the devotions were given by Mrs. Odie Nowlin.

The program, "Rapidly Growing Nations", was presented by Mrs. Roy Stribling. In connection with this program she had the following girls to assist her: Mary Louise Barnes, Sharon Maggard, Judy McDonald and Julie Cannon. Mary Louise as the American girl interviewed the other three girls in her room, in a girls' dormitory and they represented India, Africa and the Philippines.

The business meeting was conducted by the vice-president, Mrs. Lucille Shy.

About six members of the local Guild said they planned to attend the Wesleyan Service Guild Conference to be held at the Linwood Methodist Church, Kansas City, April 25 and 26.

The Wesleyan Service Guild District meeting will be held in Clinton May 9. A number of the members are planning to attend this meeting also.

Mrs. Stribling announced that National Family Week begins the week of May 4 and this will be observed in the First Methodist Church the night of May 6 with a dinner in the dining room.

The new slate of officers was presented by the nominating committee and voted on. These new officers will be installed at the May 19 meeting at the church.

Damage By Storm At Blackwater

By Mrs. M. R. Gillespie

BLACKWATER — Blackwater and vicinity were struck by tornado-like winds, hail and rain Friday evening about six o'clock. The greatest damage was to the Elbert Sprigg farm two miles north of Blackwater where a large implement shed was demolished, a large barn damaged, the smoke house destroyed, another barn destroyed and the chimney blown from the house. At the B. B. Brown farm across the road from the Sprigg farm, the barn was destroyed. Some damage was done at the Rabern Kella place nearby. Fences were down and the farmers in that area had some trouble rounding up stock.

The fourth quarterly conference of the Methodist Church in the Blackwater charge was held Friday evening at the church in Blackwater. Dr. Forest Standard, Marshall, district superintendent, conducted the conference. The Rev. F. B. Williams, Concordia, pastor of the three churches, Blackwater, Longwood and Grand Pass, was present. Those attending from Grand Pass were Mrs. Virginia Thorp, Mrs. J. E. Geraghty, and Miss Madeline Elliott. From the Longwood church were Miss Mattie Ezell, Miss Emma Beoharas and J. W. Greer. There were six members of the local church present.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Burns, Raytown, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Goslin and two daughters, of Moberly attended services Sunday at the Church of Christ in Blackwater. They were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Thornton.

Mrs. Anna Lee Joice and three daughters, Springfield, Mo., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Price.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Widel went to Marshall Wednesday evening and attended a meeting of the Archaeological Society. Prof. Holmes of Missouri Valley College was guest speaker. Widel is a member of the society.

The WSCS of the Methodist Church in Blackwater met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Bud Griffith with twelve adults and two children, Kay and Fay Widel, present. The devotional service and mission study were conducted by Mrs. M. R. Gillespie. Her subject was "Rapidly Growing Nations." Mrs. C. D. Lueckert, president, presided over the business meeting. Minutes of the previous meeting and roll call were given by Mrs. Robert Gibson. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Riley O'Neal. Following the business meeting a social hour was held and refreshments served.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hooper and son, Roger, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hooper, Marshall. In the afternoon they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hooper of Marshall.

The W. W. 4-H observed 4-H Sunday at the W. W. Community Club near Blackwater Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. The program follows: Prelude, Green Pastures by J. Owen Long, Marie Topel; Call to worship, Clyde Topel; Hymn, "This is My Father's World"; Welcome, Bobby Clemens, president; Prayer, Faye Topel; Scripture from the Book of Mathew, Rose Marie Wetherell and Lewis Wagner; Special music,

"I Would be True", Fay Widel, Kay Widel, Ronnie Root, Rex Gump, Debbie Price, Frances Wetherell, David George Fulk, George Root, Jr., accompanist, Laura Lee Morris; Sermon, Rev. Dean Dickey, pastor of the Peninsula Baptist Church; Special music, "Dreaming" Shirley Nowlin, Kay Sprigg, Billy Lee Clemens, Marian Lae Sprigg, Phillip W. Widel, Johnnie Nowlin, Sylvia Roth, Buzzy True; Litany, Marilyn Kay Corbin and Patty Root; Hymn, "Work for the Night is Coming"; Prayer and benediction, Rev. Dickey; Postlude, God of Our Fathers. Ushers were Judy Gotmer, Jackie Roth, Tommy Root, Jeanne Turley, Joyce Corbin. In charge of programs were Karyl Wagner, Kay Kramer, Paul Root, Jr., Richie Wilson.

The Rev. F. B. Williams, Concordia, filled his appointment at the Methodist Church Sunday. There were two additions to the church at the morning service. The Rev. Williams conducted Bible study in the evening for the youth group. In the afternoon he attended the 4-H program presented by the W. W. 4-H Club at the W. W. building. Rev. Williams was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Widel.

Mrs. Hulda Duvall spent last week at the home of her grandson, Billy Stewart, and family, Boonville.

Mrs. J. N. Whitlow who spent the winter in Honolulu with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whitlow and with her daughter, Miss Louise Whitlow, returned to her home here Saturday.

What! A $3788 hospital bill for a heart condition?

Consider the higher costs of today's health care—you'll understand how unexpected complications and an extended hospital stay led to a hospital bill of $3788.60 for a local heart patient. Even the average bill for such a case is $339.03, according to Blue Cross records.

Luckily, the patient with that $3788 hospital bill—and many fellow patients—have Blue Cross, the plan that allows for the unexpected as well as the "average" cost of illness. You'd be wise to have this protection, too, for indications are that hospital care costs will continue to rise at the rate of 5 per cent a year for at least another ten years.

Factors causing this continuing increase include generally higher hospital operating expenses . . . the cost of adding new life-saving equipment . . . the expense of building new facilities and modernizing existing ones . . . and the cost of paying adequate salaries to a highly-trained, round-the-clock staff.

Here's how to protect yourself against rising hospital costs:

Join the 51 million Americans who plan ahead with Blue Cross membership. Blue Cross members receive benefits based on the care needed—not just fixed dollar amounts. So as the cost of care rises, Blue Cross benefits rise automatically.

And for realistic help with your doctor bills, you'll want to join Blue Shield.

The valuable protection of Blue Cross-Blue Shield is now available these two ways:

1 GROUP MEMBERSHIP

If there are 5 or more employees where you work, ask your employer about forming a Blue Cross-Blue Shield group.

2 NON-GROUP MEMBERSHIP

You can apply direct to Blue Cross-Blue Shield for non-group membership at any time. For complete information, fill out the coupon below.

Scientist Gets Answer To Fables

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Is a cucumber really cool? Does anyone actually get warm as toast? Are a redhead's lips as hot as song and fable tell us?

To find the answers to such questions a test-engineering team, with a newsman's help, applied scientific know-how to many a familiar saying and analogy.

It was done with devices for taking temperatures in all sorts of places.

Put to serious purposes, the tester is a boon to business and industry. It was developed by Leeds and Northrup Co., makers of electrical goods.

Tests showed a cucumber was anything but cool as the old saw suggests. Inside it tested at 68.9 degrees, its skin 71.6.

Nobody could be as warm as toast is at first — 167 degrees. Within a few minutes, the temperature drops to 78 or 79, but veteran countermen say that isn't what's meant by warm toast.

Ever wonder just how hot that news is rolling fresh and fragrant off the presses? Typical front page temperature was 82. This was 8 to 10 degrees above room temperature.

As for a redhead's lips, a sampling taken outdoors on a mild day fluttered to only 92 degrees. The cold shoulder that a model gave was 95.7, identical with the collar temperature of a taxi driver before he headed into traffic in a congested area. After about a half hour's driving, the cabbie was only slightly hot under the collar. His steam had gone to 95.9.

The hottest jazz that a radio station could play was somewhat less than a scorching 85. A cold chisel tested in an unheated hardware store was 74.3, a bit less than a degree warmer than straight vodka taken in a bar where the mercury averaged 76.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Luella McCune

Mrs. Luella McCune, 83, LaMonte, died at the Campbell Nursing Home at 7:45 p.m. Saturday. She had been ill for the past three years.

Mrs. McCune was born in Pettis County near LaMonte, Dec. 29, 1875, the daughter of the late William and Emaline Brim Duke. She has lived all of her life in Pettis County.

She was married at LaMonte, April 27, 1910, to Harry L. McCune. They were the parents of three children.

Mr. and Mrs. McCune lived near LaMonte during their early married life, later moving to a farm southeast of Sedalia where they resided for 17 years. They returned to LaMonte to reside in 1938. Mr. McCune died Nov. 7, 1943.

Mrs. McCune was also preceded in death by her twin sister, Mrs. O. W. Clabaugh, who died in 1928. She was a member of the LaMonte Christian Church.

She is survived by one daughter, Miss Ruth McCune, Independence, Mo.; two sons, Arthur McCune, 1302 East Sixth Street; William P. McCune, Route 1, Sedalia; one sister, Mrs. Emma Kerby Duffer, LaMonte; one brother, A. W. Duke, Meeker, Okla. Seven grandchildren and one great-grandson also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the Christian Church in LaMonte at 2 p.m. Monday. The Rev. Roy Smith, pastor, will officiate.

Burial will be in the LaMonte Cemetery.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home.

A. L. Zollinger

A. L. Zollinger, 84, died at the Warrensburg Medical Center Friday night. A former resident of Otterville, he had made his home for many years with a daughter, Mrs. Ralph Shipley, Warrensburg.

He was preceded in death by his wife, a sister of Mrs. Fred Decker, 404 East 16th, Sedalia, and one daughter.

He is survived by one daughter, four sons, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Sweeney Funeral Home in Warrensburg.

Burial will be in the Otterville Cemetery.

Leonard Finch

Leonard Finch, farmer and stockman of Parker, Kan., died Friday, April 24, at a Garnett, Kan., hospital, after a brief illness of a heart ailment. He is survived by his wife of the home, the former Miss Anna Spears of Sedalia and Kansas City.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Four Square Church at Goodrich, Kan. The body will be at the home from Sunday afternoon until time for the funeral.

Senate Passes

limit their duration; require employers to make public reports on their activities designed to influence labor disputes through middlemen and in other ways; and fix severe criminal penalties for false reporting and other violations of provisions of the bill.

Key Taft-Hartley changes in the bill would permit replaced strikers to vote in a bargaining election, thus wiping out what union officials and others have termed a "union-busting" Taft-Hartley provision, and legalize pre-hire agreements in the construction industry. Labor long has sought these.

Four important changes were made in the floor debate, one being the adoption of the bill of rights.

The others were insertion of a "hot cargo" amendment to outlaw agreements frequently obtained by the Teamsters Union to force a trucker to agree in a contract not to handle products which the union designates as hot; a provision to require union officials who handle money to observe fiduciary standards; and a provision to ban organizational picketing where the union has lost an election in the last nine months of where the employer has recognized another union.

Sen. Spessard Holland (D-Fla.) was beaten 64-27 in a last-minute effort to grant states authority to ban or restrict strikes on public utilities, such as gas, water, light, or public passenger transportation services.

The final amendment written into the bill, offered by Sen. Sam Ervin Jr. (D-NC), modified the prehearing election section designed to speed up National Labor Relations Board processes.

Under the original provision, the board could call an election on its motion 30 days after a petition was filed for it, even though the parties could not agree to a consent election. The Ervin amendment changed the waiting period to 45 days.

• Accidents

No injuries were received in a two-car accident two miles west of Sedalia on 16th Street Road at 5:50 p.m. Friday. The accident involved a 1954 Pontiac driven east by William Clayton Booth, 17, Route 3, and a 1954 Chevrolet driven east by Jane Meuschke, 618½ West Broadway.

Booth reported, according to Trooper R. E. Stockdell, that he started to pass, noticed that it looked like the other car wanted to pull over, and at that time, applied his brakes.

The Pontiac skidded 257 feet before striking the Chevrolet, then skidded an additional 42 feet before coming to rest.

The Chevrolet, after being struck in the rear, went off the road to the right, through a fence and into a field owned by the Harvey Brothers.

Miss Meuschke was accompanied by Merlin Yoder, 318 West Broadway, who was giving her driving instruction.

Both vehicles were extensively damaged.

Only minor hurts were suffered in a car-truck accident on U.S. Highway 50 in front of the Standard Service Station at the west Junction of Highway 127 at LaMonte. The accident occurred at 2:40 a.m. Saturday.

Dewey Dean May, 26, of the 340th OMS at Whiteman AFB who resides at 3600 South Kentucky, driver of the truck, suffered a scrape on the left side of his forehead. He was taken to the Whiteman base hospital by a passing Airman.

Involved was a 1958 Chevrolet convertible driven by Robert Joseph Fitzgibbon, 24, also of the 340th OMS at Whiteman who was headed west on the highway. Fitzgibbon, reported he started to make a left turn into the service station drive and slowed because of an approaching car from the west and was struck from the rear.

May, who was driving a 1952 GMC pickup truck reported to Trooper Robert E. Stockdell, that "everything just stopped in front of me before I could stop."

The Chevrolet rear end was smashed in buckling the sides of the convertible. Damage was extensive, as was the damage to the front end of the pickup which was smashed in. The windshield on the truck was shattered when May's head struck it.

A two-car accident occurred at 8:45 p.m. Saturday in front of 218 South Grand.

It involved a 1953 Hudson parked at that address and owned by W. R. Roper, St. Louis, and a 1957 Chevrolet driven south on Grand by Homer Dee Tuter, 320 West Fourth. Tuter was arrested for driving while intoxicated.

Damages resulted to the rear end of the Hudson and the front grill, bumper and hood of the Chevrolet.

Man With Bomb At Rally for Castro Sent To Hospital for Tests

NEW YORK (AP)—A young man with a potent homemade bomb at an outdoor rally for Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro was sent to Bellevue Hospital Saturday for mental tests.

The prisoner, John Gregory Feller, 23-year-old former Air Force master sergeant, told police he intended no harm to Castro or others but thought of touching off the bomb just for the excitement it would create.

He was nabbed Saturday night as he sought to scale a barrier only 2-7 feet from where the Cuban revolutionary chieftain was addressing a throng of 35,000 in Central Park. Police experts said the explosive probably would have had an effective range of 300 feet.

He was charged with possession of an illegal weapon.

• Police Reports

Police were called Friday night to Mark Twain School, where a door was reported open and a suspicious car circling the building. The car was gone when the police arrived.

Police were called Friday night to 510 North Grand, where dogs were reported creating a disturbance. The dogs were dispersed by the Highway Patrol indicated that he had been drinking to the extent that his driving created a hazard on the highway.

A stabbing was reported at 6:20 p.m. Friday at Sixth and Engineer. Police found no stabbing, but a 12-year-old juvenile had tried to force a woman down the alley at knifepoint to rob her. The juvenile was taken into custody and talked to by Cecil Glenn, juvenile officer. He was later released to his parents.

A girl was taken to the police station Friday evening. She had missed her mother at Broadway School. Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin took her home.

Mrs. Valeda Foster, 1800 South Park, reported someone knocked a hole in her garage.

A catch-basin just north of the fish market on North Osage was reported caved in.

An automobile parked in front of a building in the 300 block of East Third for 12 days was traced by police through its license number and found to belong to Kenneth John Sinder, Waynesville, Mo. His mother, Mrs. Sophia Sinder, also of Waynesville, when contacted by the police, said that was the car her son had left home in and she expressed the fear that something had happened to him. Sinder is 23, six feet tall, weighs 165 pounds, has dark wavy hair and wears glasses.

Reds Warn Tibetan Rebels to Surrender Or Be Wiped Out

TOKYO (AP)—Red China warned Tibetan rebels Saturday to surrender at once or be "wiped out lock, stock and barrel."

Gen. Fu Chung, deputy chief of the Red army's political department, sounded the warning in a speech before the National People's Congress in Peiping.

Another Peiping broadcast said Chinese Communist troops were sealing off the borders of Tibet to keep the rebels in and to block any outside help.

Peiping announced earlier this week the uprising that erupted in March had been crushed. But Fu said "a handful of remnant rebel bandits" fled to remote mountains and were being wiped out.

One Peiping broadcast accused P. N. Menon of India's Foreign Ministry of acting "outright for the Tibetan rebels in India."

YOUR Funeral

Director

Why not avoid perplexing last-minute decisions and let him help you have the best of everything for every dollar you spend whenever you might be called upon to arrange for a funeral?

Have you ever had it to do?

We believe that your funeral director will be able to render you an even higher degree of service, if you (and we're thinking of most adults) will have decided on whom you'll call and will have given him the opportunity to really get to know you. He'll be pleased to familiarize you with the character and diversity of his services and with facts about the things that will be needed and about prices.

Why not talk with him now? You'll thank yourself later and be grateful for having done it.

Bill Offered To Revamp Pension Law

Sumner G. Whittier, administrator of Veterans Affairs, has submitted to Congress a bill to modernize the veterans pension structure. W. F. Fidler, manager of the Veterans Administration office in Sedalia, said he had been advised today.

The bill, Fidler said, features a "graduated scale" of payments keyed to individual needs. Hearings on the proposed bill probably will get under way in Washington about May 11.

Under the proposed bill, 55 per cent of the 1,223,000 veterans, widows and children now on the VA pension rolls would receive increased pensions.

A "savings provision" in the measure would insure that no beneficiary now on the VA rolls would be cut off, and, in addition, would give these beneficiaries their choice between old and new rates.

Under present law, veterans of World War I, World War II and Korea who meet length-of-service and discharge requirements are eligible for pension if they are considered permanently and totally disabled for reasons not attributable to service, and if their annual incomes do not exceed $1,400 (with no dependents) or $2,700 (with dependents).

Fidler said pension rates at present are $66.15 and $78.75 per month, the latter payable when a veteran reaches 65, or has been on the rolls for 10 years. These flat rates are paid eligible veterans on an "all or nothing" basis regardless of variances in the amount of their other income, and without regard to whether the veteran is single, married, or has more than one dependent. For example, a veteran with the maximum allowable outside income receives exactly the same pension as a veteran with no income at all, and a single veteran gets the same pension as a veteran with a large family.

Under the "graduated scale" proposed by Whittier, payments would be keyed to both the amount of other income and the number of dependents.

Under the "graduated scale," for instance, an eligible veteran under 65 with three dependents, no outside income and on the rolls less than ten years would receive $100 per month, an increase of approximately 50 per cent over his present rate. On the other hand, payments in the future could dip

Entertains Victory Club for Meeting

Tuesday evening, April 14, Helen Embry entertained the Victory Club at her home in Tipton. There were 15 members present, along with approximately 16 guests. Barbara Coffee acted as co-hostess.

Helen Ruth Knipp, president, presided at the business meeting. Two new members were welcomed into the club, Mrs. Wilma Noyne and Mrs. Pat Rabe.

Arrangements were made to attend the smorgasbord at Flat Creek Inn the following evening. Carol Prestage gave a seasonal devotional. She chose for her subject "Spring."

A vote of thanks goes to Ewald Fischer who cut his time short at the Sportsman's meeting in order to show the Centennial film.

Helen's home was decorated throughout with spring flowers.

After the meeting, everyone enjoyed refreshments served buffet style.

as low as $10 per month for a veteran who has near-the-limit income from other sources.

The principle of the "graduated scale" involves paying higher pensions to veterans, widows and orphans most in need, and lesser sums to those least in need.

Fidler emphasized that the proposed bill deals only with disability and death pensions payable for non-service-connected conditions. It in no way affects compensation, which is payable for disability or death resulting from military service.

VA records indicate that present pensioners with outside incomes of less than $400 a year include 61 per cent, or 254,000, of the single veterans; 39 per cent or 170,000, of the veterans with dependents; and about 49 per cent or 210,000, of the widows and children receiving death pensions.

It is these categories that would receive higher pensions under the "graduated scale."

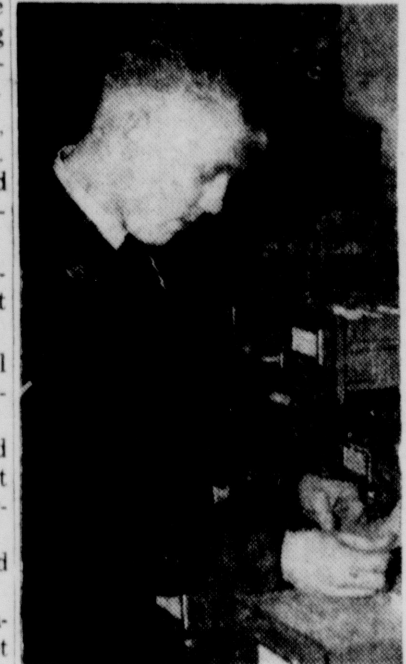

Speed and efficiency. In the modern day Air Force, time saving and efficiency coupled together is required wherever possible to maintain numerous personnel, supply and other records necessary for effective operation.

Probably the most efficient and time saving department in the 340th Bomb Wing at present is the 1st statistical service division's IBM section. This unit makes fewer mistakes than any other section compared to the volume of work it produces.

However, this increased speed, efficiency and time saving can't be attributed to the personnel in that section entirely, but rather, the eight machines which are utilized.

The first of these is a key punch machine. This piece of equipment transfers information to IBM cards by the key punch method; a sorter, which does exactly what its name implies — sorts cards — may be found there.

Others included are a verifier, which checks for correct information; interpreter prints information punched on cards; reproducer; tabulator, tabulating and accounting machine; calculator, which does what its name suggests, and a collector, which merges and places cards in sequence, pulls or separates different cards.

The section falls under the jurisdiction of Major John M. Berbrich, statistical services OIC, but the running of the section is left up to S-Sgt. Robert C. Doucet, NCOIC IBM section, and T-Sgt. William Hinton, assistant NCOIC. Sgt. Hinton has a five level in the field and is training for a seven level.

Others in the section include M-Sgt. James M. Bussey, T-Sgt. Raymond Primm, S-Sgt. William Yanovich, Claude Fry and Charles Craig, A-1c Bernard Bruckner, A-2c Melvin Lightfoot, Richard Stemmel, David Tipton, and Paul Wesel. 4-H Round-Up with

OWEN FOX

Pettis County Assoc. Agent

Dates Ahead
Saturday, May 2, R-1 4-H club radio program, 10:15 a.m.

Saturday, May 2, afternoon, visit Smithton 4-H livestock and dairy projects.

Sunday, May 3, National 4-H Sunday.

Tuesday night, May 5, County 4-H Council.

State 4-H Club Week

Fifteen Pettis County 4-H members may attend state 4-H Club Week this year. This event is held June 10-13 at Columbia. You will have the opportunity to become acquainted with the college campus of the University of Missouri. It will include assemblies, work groups, a picnic and a party. High school seniors should not miss this opportunity. There will be 800 to 900 4-H members there so this will be quite a conference.

The afternoon program will consist of four workshop groups as follows: Health, Wildlife Conservation, Safety and Song Leading. (These conferences replace the State Health, Conservation and Junior Leadership Camps that have been held in the past; these state camps will not be held this year.)

The selection from the county will be made on your interest from one of these four phases as well as your other general 4-H record.

Delegates must have been 14 years of age by Jan. 1, 1959, and have completed two years of club work. We hope that at least one boy and one girl from each club will submit an application.

Your part of the fee will cost only $3 as local sponsors will pay the remainder of the $11 fee. The fee for the four-day event includes meals, lodging, $1 to sponsor state IFYE delegate, and accident insurance. We agents will arrange the transportation. Entries are due May 1, 5 p.m., at the Extension Office.

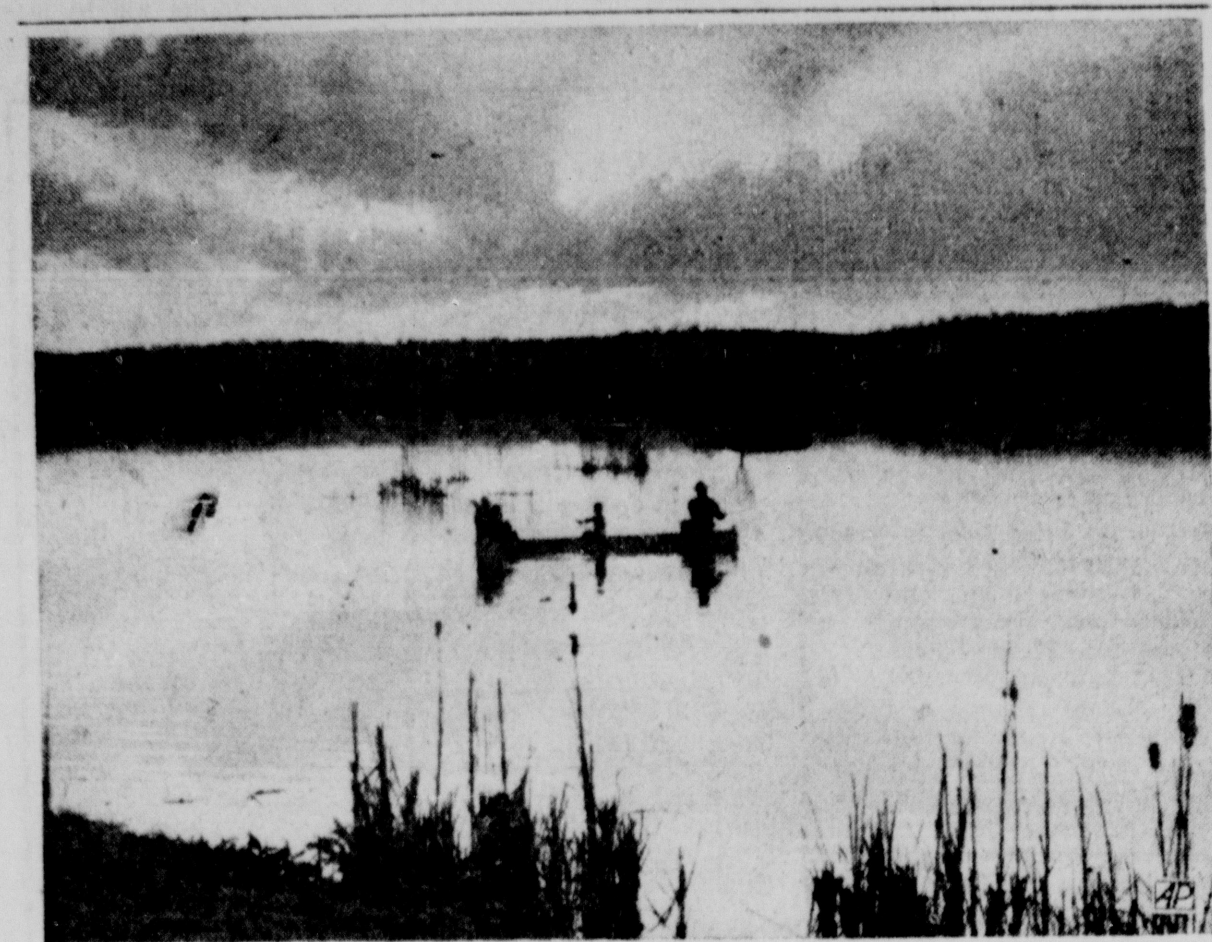

National 4-H Center

Each 4-H Club president has received a letter from Bob Fridley, president of the State 4-H Club Council. The letter concerns the National 4-H Club Center.

The center was started with the purchase of a 12½-acre campus in 1951. It is located near the national Capitol in Washington,

Wilhite's First Start Successful

The Smith-Cotton Tigers scored two runs in the fourth inning without a hit Friday afternoon and defeated the Mexico Bulldogs, 6-2, in a Central Missouri Conference game on the Mexico diamond. It was the Tigers' fifth win against three losses. They are 1-1 in conference play.

Smith-Cotton's two runs in the fourth came when Richard Wertz walked to lead off the inning and pitcher Dave Wilhite was hit by a pitch. Wertz started to steal third and Mexico catcher Clement threw the ball into left field, allowing Wertz to score and Wilhite to go to third. Wilhite then stole home.

Wilhite, making his first appearance on the mound this season for the Tigers, fanned two and walked one in going the distance. Smith-Cotton routed Mexico's first hurler, Ellis, in the third, and Walters finished up for the Bulldogs, striking out seven and issuing two free passes.

Smith-Cotton broke into the scoring column in the second inning on a walk to Charles Wadleigh and successive singles by Larry Wilson and Tim Morgan.

The Tigers added three more in the third when Larry Decker reached first via an error by Mexico's third baseman on his ground ball. Mike Hannigan singled, driving Decker to third, and Nicky Nichols reached first on a perfect squeeze play that drove in Decker, with Hannigan stopping at third. Nichols then stole second and Garrison singled both Hannigan and Nichols home.

Mexico scored one in the sixth when, with one out, Hamilton singled, Jenkins grounded to third with Hamilton stopping at second, and Stublefield doubled to left field, scoring Hamilton. The only other Bulldog run was scored in the seventh on a walk to Singleton, an error by Wertz on Clement's grounder, and a single by Walter, scoring Singleton.

Tim Morgan's two singles led Sedalia's hitting attack and Wertz got the only extra base hit, a double. Stublefield led Mexico's hitting with a double and three other Bulldogs each got a single. Smith-Cotton: 013 200 0 6 7 3 Mexico: 000 001 1 2 4 2

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

THE Missouri Sports Hall of Fame—right here in Sedalia—is located at the Missouri State Fair grounds. It is a project which deserves more attention than it has received since its inception back in 1951, and should be given a little more support from the State than it has received.

It was back in 1950 when Carl McIntyre, then press secretary of the fair, decided to see if a Hall of Fame to the living sports leaders could be started. It was, and began gradually to catch on among the sports writers of Missouri, but it hit a snag—the "big wigs" of the Department of Agriculture under which the fair is operated apparently figured it was just a small side issue to the fair.

Apparently someone got the idea it was somebody's idea in the Missouri sports world and using the fair for a "good thing." Fair be it for the sports writers to "use" the fair for such, and I, for one, would like to know just what the state officials think about this project.

Certainly Missouri's greats in athletics deserve far better recognition than they receive here. Some months ago it was suggested the University of Missouri pick up the pieces and move it to Columbia.

I hate to think that anyone connected with the State Department of Agriculture would add support to the move, especially when a much better show could be made here in Sedalia at the fair grounds—the Sports Hall of Fame birthplace.

Since 1956 the support to the project, financially from the fair, has not been what it could be. The chairman of the project was forced to use his own monies in some incidents, and "hustle" up someone to pay for the luncheon honoring the honoree. As a result, this year Stan Isle, sports editor of the Moberly Monitor-Index, has given up the chairmanship—not because of the money but from what I believe was lack of support from the State. That's my own opinion. Stan probably wouldn't say so publicly, but from my conversation with him there was every indication.

I am wondering just how much backing the Commissioner of Agriculture, John Sam Williamson, will give the Sedalia Lions Club, Rotary, Kiwanis, and Optimist clubs if they would get together and go for trying to get a Sports Hall of Fame building erected on the fair grounds. These groups haven't been approached lately, but if they should get together, they'll need some plugging from the "Top Brass" of the State to see that it goes over.

The little glass display case in the Administration building is actually an insult to the intelligence of the honoree, much less the sports writers of Missouri for their participation and endeavors.

ERNE MEHL, sports editor of the Kansas City Star, has graciously volunteered to take over the chairmanship for this year at least. Personally, I think it is wonderful that Ernie will lend his name and his endeavors to make this program a success.

I can assure MEHL that the Sedalia Democrat-Capital sports staff will be behind him one hundred percent.

As president of the Missouri Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association, I shall enlist the support of every member to back up the new chairman. MEHL will need every bit of help he can get and now is the time to put the spurs into the State Administration and put this over.

Another place to enjoy yourself is the Thunderbowl Speedway, southwest of Sedalia on the Green Ridge Road. Of course, that is if you are interested in plenty of thrills, excitement and speed. The second year for the track opened Saturday night and appears to be headed for a successful season.

The Central Missouri Racing Association has the jurisdiction of operation of the racing events, which assures the customers of "Up-and-Up" racing competition in the modified stock car program. In other words, there will be no "outlaws" of the racing business moving in to crowd out the legitimate race drivers.

RUSS and Dorothy Ream, now the operators of the Elm Hill's Sedalia Public Golf Course, report they had a great day last Sunday when golfers took advantage of the free rounds on the course.

Through the week, they reported many Sedalia's out giving the nine holes a good workout, and their response has been gratifying to the new owners.

One thing for sure, they have saved a good golf course from being turned into pasture and a corn field. Hence, local golfers should give to the new Sedalia's not only their moral support, but support by taking out memberships to assure them enough operating funds to keep it rolling.

With the driving range now open, everybody can take a swing at a golf ball and a new system of scoring with awards to be made for certain drives should also make it attractive to those men and women with long drives.

Champion Has Bright Future; Akins Doesn't

ST. LOUIS (AP)—World welterweight champion Don Jordan and ex-kingpin Virgil Akins have plenty of time on their hands Saturday.

For Jordan, a good punching boxer from Los Angeles, it's merely a matter of marking time until a swollen right hand mends and his manager, Don Nesseth, lines up his next fight.

But for the 31-year-old Akins, who failed by a very wide margin of regaining the welter crown from Jordan in a 15-rounder here Friday night, the future isn't exactly bright.

X-rays failed to disclose a fracture of Jordan's right hand and apparently the 24-year-old part Apache will be ready to fight when Nesseth gives him the word. Nesseth insists he doesn't know the next opponent yet, but he kicked around names like Denny Moyer for a possible scrap in Portland, Ore., carrying a $70,000 guarantee. He figures Art Aragon would draw a good gate in Los Angeles and that Carmen Basilio would do business most any place. Except for the first three rounds when Akins carried the fight and had Jordan in trouble briefly, it was definitely the champ's night again as he won his 45th bout against 11 defeats on a unanimous decision.

Regains CMRA Point Lead

Ken Taylor Wins T-Bowl Feature

Sportsman's Speedway in Marshall will be the site of another CMRA modified stock car race this afternoon. Time trials will commence at 2 p.m.

Slater's Ken Taylor regained the CMRA point lead Saturday night by winning the feature race at the opening race of the 1959 season at Sedalia's Thunderbowl Speedway.

Taylor and Moberly's Torch Aleshire hooked up in a thrilling 25 lap battle and at the finish line Taylor had less than a car length lead over the classy Moberly veteran.

Aleshire commanded the lead for most of the first 15 laps, but on the 16th lap he went too high on the southeast turn and Taylor pulled even with him. The Buick powered modified driven by Taylor and the Studebaker powered car driven by Aleshire roared down the straightaways and around the curves, in a dead heat on the 17th lap, before Taylor nosed into the lead for keeps. Although the Slater speedster managed to open up a 25 yard advantage at times, he was pressed to the hilt to win. Columbia's Walter Sorrels would have made it a three car race, but he spun out on the 13th lap and fell out.

Every race on the program was a thriller. Close finishes were the rule rather than the exception during the crowd-pleasing performance. Attendance was over 1,000.

Taylor also racked-up the fastest time in time trials, circling the quarter-mile-plus Thunderbowl oval in the second fastest time on record, 19.57. In another splendid duel with Walter Sorrels of Columbia, Taylor took the trophy dash. In four CMRA sanctioned races this season, Taylor has taken three trophy dashes.

Dude Green of Marshall Junction won the B Feature, beating Jim Raines, also of Marshall Junction, by a shade. Green and Raines put on a wheel-to-wheel performance and the lead changed hands three times before the winner was decided. Green won the first heat race prior to nabbing the B Feature by topping Bob Yokeley of Forest Green and Doug Crank of Marshall.

Russ Hibbard won the fast heat, with inverted start, in a great battle with Aubrey Techemeyer and Sorrels. Sorrels, who started seventh in the eight car field, put on one of the finest driving exhibitions ever seen at the Thunderbowl, but the finish line came about 30 yards too soon for the second finishing Columbian. Techemeyer led for the first eight laps.

In one of the most exciting races on the nine event card, Shorty Pace of Marshall won the second heat, topping Pearson Turley of Forest Green and Woody Carpenter of Clarksburg. Buster Wilson of Columbia and Pace had battled on neck-to-neck terms throughout the 10 lap affair and the husky Columbian was challenging for the lead on the last lap, but spun out on the tricky southeast turn.

Jim Yokeley of Marshall, a regular performer at the Thunderbowl last season, chalked up his first victory on the Sedalia track by winning the first claim car race. Glen Arnold, driving a six cylinder Chevrolet, finished a close second. Arnold, however, came back to win the second claim car battle, finishing about ten yards in front of Yokeley.

Red Walton of Georgetown finished fourth in the first claim car race and third in the other. David

A's 8, Tigers 7

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Detroit's Tigers made a gallant ninth inning effort but fell afoul of Dick Tomaneck's relief pitching and dropped their 11th game in 12 starts Saturday night, 8-7, as Bob Cerv again led Kansas City's winning attack.

Cerv's home run drove in three Kansas City runs in the third and knocked out starter Paul Foytack, who dropped his second game.

The Tigers scored two runs in the first as they fired an opening salvo of four hits. Then they subsided meekly without a hit as starter Ned Garver moved them down through the fifth inning.

'Doc' Spent Many Years In Improving Missouri Fishing

For almost 26 years he has worked to improve fishing in Missouri. Now Dr. G. B. Herndon is retiring, from the working end of it, and plans to enjoy the fruits of his labor — catching fish.

"Doc", as he's known to thousands of sportsmen throughout the state, retires May 1 as head of the fisheries program of the Conservation Commission. He's headed that program, and helped it grow, since the Commission began official operations July 1, 1937. Before that he was in charge of the old Fish and Game Department hatchery program for four years.

A native of Pleasant Green, "Doc" completed high school in Sedalia and was graduated from St. Louis University dental school as a doctor of dentistry. He practiced dentistry in Buffalo a number of years but fishing kept tugging at him. Finally, in 1933, he could resist no longer and began his long career to help make better fishing for his fellow anglers.

Under the old Fish and Game Department, like other wildlife agencies at the time, the fisheries program was principally a hatchery operation. The operation was somewhat the same when the Commission came into being but "Doc" and others realized there was more to be known about fisheries management. By 1939 investigations, limited by available money, were begun by trained biologists. They had to be limited to those of the greatest urgency, conducted by from one to three biologists.

In 1945 a more intensive investigation program was inaugurated and it received a boost in 1950 when federal aid money for fisheries investigation work became available for the first time.

Today the goals of fishery management are the same — to develop existing water for better fishing opportunities and to develop new water into good fishing areas.

Push for attaining these goals comes from three different, but related, directions—hatchery production and distribution, development and management of public use areas, and research and investigations.

Twelve biologists conduct investigations on about 25 different phases of fresh-water fish life which result in better management for better fishing.

Eleven public use areas are managed by the Fishery section, four of them trout areas. More

Women Elect Officers For Keg League

The Women's Bowling League of Sedalia held its annual banquet and election Thursday night at Flat Creek Inn with one of the largest crowds since the women organized here.

Mrs. Sadie Mills, president, presided over the meeting and introduced the State Secretary, Mrs. Lorraine Painter, of Springfield, who announced the State Women's Tournament will be held in Springfield next year.

The new officers for the coming year are Mrs. Ruth Campbell, president; Mrs. Pat Morris, vice-president; Mrs. Bobby Poundstone, secretary; Mrs. Kathryn Keller, re-elected treasurer; and Mrs. Helen Kuhn, sergeant-at-arms.

Outgoing officers were Mrs. Mills, president; Mrs. Kathryn Sumner, vice-president; Mrs. Laura Val McCurdy, secretary; and Mrs. Ronnie Trotter, sergeant-at-arms.

Presentation of awards were made during the evening.

The team winner, Main Street Drugs with a 2981, was presented the team trophy. The team members were: Mrs. Sadie Miller, Mrs. Mert Whitfield, Mrs. Pat Morris, Mrs. Laura Val McCurdy and Miss Oda Marie Boss.

Singles winner was Mrs. Rosalee Pressley with a three game series of 726.

Doubles winners were: Mrs. Anna Mae Welliver and Mrs. Virginia Scott, whose totals were 1939.

All-Events, winner was Mrs. Lois Hoepfner, with a total score of 1601 pins.

The best single game of the season was rolled by Mrs. Pat Morris with a total score of 233 pins.

Following the banquet and meeting the group adjourned to the Broadway Bowling Lanes for a social gathering.

Dr. G. B. Herndon

water available to the people of Missouri is the Community Lake program.

Under it local citizens provide a lake site, deeded to the Commission, and the wildlife agency then constructs the lake, stocks it and makes it available for fishing without charge. The first lake built under the program, near Jamesport, opened last year and five more are slated to open this year.

About 5000 farm ponds were built in Missouri last year. Most of them were stocked with fish from Commission hatcheries, after a reasonable amount of public fishing. In all, more than 13 million fish were produced and distributed by hatchery crews.

It's been a busy 26 years for "Doc" and much of the time he's been too busy to do his own fishing. Now he's moving to "Herdon Haven" near Branson in the White River country and, as one co-worker expressed it, "I hope all Doc's catches are lunkers."

Redlegs Nip Spahn and Braves, 7-6

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds overcame two jinxes at once Saturday as they knocked Warren Spahn out of the box and then held on for a 7-6 victory over the Milwaukee Braves. The Braves threatened to pull the game out of the fire in the ninth when Eddie Mathews hit a two-run homer.

They had two more men on bases when Dal Candall flied out to end the game.

Going into Saturday's game Spahn had a 51-15 lifetime record against the Reds and had beaten them 6 straight times. As a team, the Braves had won 36 of 45 games from Cincinnati during 1957, 1958 and this year.

Johnny Temple, who rarely hits for distance, had a 3-run homer for Cincinnati and Bill Bruton, along with Mathews, had a home run for the Braves. Frank Thomas had four hits for Cincinnati.

The setback was the first of the season for Spahn and the victory went to Tom Acker, second of three Cincinnati pitchers. Milwaukee 030 010 002—6 12 2 Cincinnati 003 112 008—7 14 0 Spahn, Willey (6), Buhl (7), Rush (3) and Crandall; Purkey, Acker (3), Mabe (7) and Dotter. W—Acker, L—Spahn.

Briton Wins Grand Prix of Syracuse

SYRACUSE, Sicily (AP)—Britain's Stirling Moss, driving a Cooper-Borgward, Saturday won the 188-mile Grand Prix of Syracuse automobile race.

Moss covered the 55-lap course in one hour, 53 minutes, six seconds for an average speed of 99.4 m.p.h.

The race for Formula 2 cars counted toward the world championship for car makers.

Jean Behra of France, in a Ferrari, was second in 1:53:38.4.

Orioles Edge Yanks, 2-1, In 11 Innings

NEW YORK (AP)—Rookie Willie Tasby doubled to open the 11th and scored on a single by pinch hitter Chico Carrasquel as the Baltimore Orioles edged the New York Yankees 2-1 Saturday and moved into second place in the American League.

Billy Loes, who pitched a scoreless tenth for his third straight runless relief job in a week, received credit for the victory, his first. Johnny Kucks, who pitched to only one batter, lost it for an 0-1 mark.

Kucks became the third Yankee pitcher at the start of the 11th and Tasby, only batter to face him, sliced a double into the right field corner. Left-hander Bobby Shantz came in and struck out Gene Woodling and walked Gus Triandos intentionally before Carrasquel delivered as a pinch batter for Billy Klaus.

Bob Boyd followed with a looping single that loaded the bases but the Orioles settled for only one run when Jim Sinigan banged into a doubleplay.

Oklahoma State Whips Kansas State Golfers

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—Oklahoma State defeated Kansas State's golf team 6½ to 5½ Saturday but Charles Hostettler of K-State won medalist honors with a 72 on the par-70 Manhattan Country Club course.

The summaries: Charles Hostettler, Kansas State (72) defeated Ken Hurlburt (75) 2-1.

George Cram, Oklahoma State, (73) defeated Jerry Hendricks (78) 2½-1½.

Jack Ellis, Oklahoma State, (75) defeated Dennis Buck (78) 2-1.

George Hooper, Kansas State, (79) defeated James Harris (84) 2-0.

The 5-10 split is usually quite hard to make but Thelma Howie made it twice. Laveda Kaiser made the 6-7-10, Shirley Owens the 5-8-10, and Eunice Eckhoff the 2-7-10.

Well the Sunday TV Bowling Show on Channel 6 should prove interesting (well to me anyway). The Whiteman Base team will roll the Broadway Lanes team. Charlie Thompson and Jim Carter will be joined by Bill Shockey, Johnny

Lela Norton had a 538, Pat Morrison 528, Ann Bader 525, Anne Welliver, 527 and Mary Scott 516. Dora Sperber joined the triplicate club with 140 three times in a row. Fannie Anderson just missed a triplicate by one pin when she ended up with a 146 instead of a 147.

Bowling Chatter

By M. R. STEVENS

Bowling is a grand game because you never can predict what is going to happen next . . . you can have a fantastic score one night and the next night shoot like you've never seen the ball and pins before.

Talking to Bob Land the other evening, he told me about a real Cinderella team. The Falstaff team with an average of 731 got hot and rolled a 1003 game scratch. Just a mere 272 pins over their average . . . bet their opponents were talking to themselves. Incidentally the five men are Jim Butcher with a 214 and 550 series, Del Brown a 213, Carl Graham 227 and 553 series, Faber Glover 192 and Bill McClain 157. All of the team is stationed at White-man.

As far as I can determine from the score sheets, Bob McCurdy shot high series for the week with a 656. Ben Sharper had high game of 257 and Ben is still griping because it was Earl Thomas' night out and he didn't get to whip him good.

Clarence Friedly had second high game with a 247, Bob McCurdy and George Dugan had 224's, Dick Mills 221, Carleton Kelly and M. Stevens had 214's and Doc Visentin had a 213. Kenny Pabst shot a 626 with a 233 high game.

Ralph Walker shot a 227 for a 553. Gay Jaeger a 214, Hershel Summers 210, 222 for a 559, David Kerr 203 and a 563, and Bill Arnold 206 and a 554.

Mutt Embree had a 620, Charlie Thompson, 621, Bill Gillyuly 583, Red Morris 595, and John "Curly" Bowman just missed a triplicate and 600 by shooting a 165 third game. He had two 214 games and then came the drought.

The ladies had their bowling banquet Thursday night and then returned to show off their trophies and pretty dresses at the Empress Room. There sure was some pretty trophies and dresses around too. Sadie Mills and Pat Morris were carrying the trophies . . . everybody kept asking Dick and Red where their trophies were . . . no comment.

Lela Norton had a 538, Pat Morrison 528, Ann Bader 525, Anne Welliver, 527 and Mary Scott 516. Dora Sperber joined the triplicate club with 140 three times in a row. Fannie Anderson just missed a triplicate by one pin when she ended up with a 146 instead of a 147.

Haddix Hurls Pirates Over Phillies, 4-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pittsburgh's Harvey Haddix effectively scattered seven hits Saturday to win his first decision of the year 4-2 over his former Philadelphia Phillies teammates.

A home run by Bill Mazerowski, run scoring singles by Smoky Burgess and Roman Mejias and alert base running by Robert Clemente gave Haddix all he needed.

The Phillies got both their runs in the second inning on Wally Post's triple, an infield ground-out on which he scored, and Willie Jones' second home run of the year.

The most spectacular play was Clemente's run-scoring dash from first base on Burgess' sharp single to right. That brought in Bill Virdon, who also had singled, from second ahead of the throw to catcher Jim Hegan.

Hegan then tried to pick Burgess off after he rounded first base. Second baseman Sparky Anderson took the throw, couldn't get Burgess and then tried unsuccessfully to nail the speedy Clemente at the plate.

Mazerowski sent the Pirates ahead in the sixth and they added their final tally off starter and loser Seth Morehead in the eighth.

Ex-Pinch Hitter Says It's Toughest Job

NEW YORK (AP)—The polypoly guy with the tanned brown face and massive arms rolled up his newspaper and swung it as one would a baseball bat.

"Swish," he said. "One swing. That's all I usually got. It was pretty rough getting only one shot at a pitcher."

Ron Northey, former major league hitting specialist now serving as a scout and batting instructor for the Chicago White Sox, was discussing pinch hitting.

"Pinch hitting is the roughest job in baseball," he observed. "You're usually facing the other team's best relief pitcher or a guy who has been exceptionally good 'hat day.'"

The requisites of a good pinch hitter, according to Northey, are: (A) patience (B) good eye and (C) power.

Mines is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mines. He is a senior and a business major. He is working for his fourth varsity team letter.

Cubs Hold Off Giants For 5-3 Win

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs ran up an early three-run lead off San Francisco starter Sam Jones, then held on for a 5-3 victory Saturday.

Bob Anderson, making his first start after a two-week layoff because of flu, needed help from Don Elston in the eighth inning.

With runners on first and second and two out in the eighth, Elston struck out Orlando Cepeda to protect Anderson's second triumph against no losses.

Willie Mays, who hit into double play twice, drove Anderson to the showers with a run-scoring single in the eighth.

Jones suffered his third loss against one victory.

Baptists To Hold Training Union Meet

Members of Baptist churches in this area will attend the annual Missouri Baptist Training Union Convention to be held in Kansas City Friday and Saturday. The meeting begins at 9:45 a.m., May 1, and will be held at Calvary Baptist Church.

Representatives from this area include: The superintendent of missions Charles B. Tucker, and Mrs. Tucker; Mrs. Harold Lane, secretary to the Associational Training Union Organization in Harmony Baptist Association; the Rev. R. D. Aisip, director of the Training Union organization in Harmony Baptist Association; Bill Potter, associate director; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Yessen and Nancy and Kurt, First Baptist Church; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Marriot, First Baptist Church. Members of other Baptist churches have indicated a desire to go, but plans to attend have not been completed.

The two-day meeting is sponsored by the Missouri Baptist Convention through its Training Union Department. Program emphasis will feature the training of church members in Bible reading, missionary and evangelistic enterprises, and doctrinal appreciation. Featured speakers include Dr. Conrad R. Willard, pastor of the host church; Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Lambdin, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. Eugene T. Pratt, Jefferson City; and Dr. Mack Douglas, St. Louis. Featured conference leaders will be Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilliland, Wichita, Kan.; Bluford Sloan, Carbondale, Ill.; Mrs. Lake Pylant, Nashville, Tenn.

Registration at the Convention is expected to reach 1500. Baptist Training Unions are organized in 20 Baptist churches in Pettis county.

Holdup Man Reports Theft of His Loot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The holdup man was indignant. Someone stole his loot. So he called police. That got him in jail but he had the satisfaction Saturday of knowing they're looking for the robber.

"You can't trust anybody these days," John Clytus told Detective Al Birdsall, who booked the 29-year-old Oklahoman on charges of armed robbery.

"I planned this whole thing beautifully. And if I didn't report this, whoever did it would get away scot free."

Clytus signed a statement recounting these events:

He had been collecting a $28 unemployment benefit check each Wednesday at the state unemployment agency office. But April 16 he presented the clerk with what looked like a bomb in a hollowed-out book and made off with $1,500.

He wrapped the loot in paper and put it in a public locker in a bus station. On Friday he found the locker open, the money gone.

German Mayor Gets Pretty Rough Scare

BERLIN (AP) — A scare that the Communists were pushing into West Berlin from the East Saturday turned out to be only a Hollywood maneuver.

Mayor Willy Kressman of the Kreuzberg borough got an alarming telephone call that signs had been erected several hundred yards inside the West Berlin border reading:

"You are now entering the democratic sector" — Communist lingo for East Berlin.

The mayor, known among his American friends as "Texas Willy," called the police to get ready for action. They calmed him down by explaining an American film unit had permission to put up simulated Communist border signs in shooting the spy thriller "The Man on a String," starring Ernest Borgnine.

Earl White Hurt In Headon Crash

Earl White, 28, Ames, Ia., enroute to Sedalia to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy White, 1214 East Tenth, over the weekend, was injured painfully about 7:15 Friday in a headon collision east of Malta Bend on U.S. Highway 65. William McDaniels, 44, Waverly, driver of the second car, was also injured.

White, brought to Sedalia from the Fitzgibbon Hospital in the Vawter ambulance, suffered an injury to his right hip and to the right shoulder. He was treated at the Bothwell Hospital by Dr. D. R. Edwards.

McDaniels suffered a head injury and he was also taken to the Fitzgibbon Hospital in Marshall where he is being treated.

According to the State Highway Patrol, White was driving a 1958 Chevrolet and headed south on Highway 65 while McDaniels was driving a 1951 Chevrolet and headed north. The Patrol reported White had started around a truck and collided headon with the McDaniels car.

Both vehicles were extensively damaged and were towed to Marshall by Vawter's wreckers.

White is employed with the Iowa State Highway Department in the Right-of-Way Division.

GOP Women Hold Meeting At Boonville

The 11th District Republican Women met in Boonville April 18 in an all-day meeting with Boonville Club No. 3 as hostess.

The District President, Mrs. Fred G. Rose, called the meeting to order and presented Mrs. Eula Nelson, president of the hostess club.

Mrs. Nelson presented her club in a short program, consisting of a prayer by Mrs. Annie Miller, a "Welcome Song" by the club choir and the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

The morning session was devoted to a general discussion of the needs of the district in waging a successful campaign in 1960 with Mrs. L. C. Davis as leader.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Nelson again presented her club members in a short program of songs and a solo by Miss Joan Pool.

The next order of business was the roll call of the counties and reports were given. The discussion of campaign strategy was resumed, with Henry Patrick of Fayette and Mrs. Pearl Gehrig contributing to the discussion leadership.

The election of new officers was held with Mrs. Paul Ryan of War-

River Ready For Planned Development

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP)—The Missouri River appears better able to meet the demands of the multiple purpose development plan than it was nine years ago, the Missouri River Inter-Agency Committee was told today.

Total water developments anticipated through the year 2020 would still leave a small surplus during normal flow years, according to a sub-committee report prepared for the 106th meeting of the committee. The committee is made up of representatives of states and federal agencies directly involved with the development of the Missouri River basin.

This subcommittee report was a re-study of a comprehensive adequacy of flow study made in 1950 and published in 1951. The report reaffirmed the 1951 finding that the flows of the Missouri are sufficient to provide for the irrigation, power production, navigation, water supply and sanitation demands programmed.

Wendell E. Johnson, chief of the engineering section of the Missouri River division engineer's office and chairman of the sub-committee, said there have been two developments since the 1951 report which would affect long range water utilization under the authorized program. One is a reduction in irrigation water requirements. The other is an increase in hydro power generating installations at the main stem system of dams. Other factors remain unchanged.

Johnson's report pointed out the anticipation development of irrigation apparently will not be as great as calculated in 1951. At that time it was estimated irrigation projects would deplete the water supply by 7,711,000 acre feet by the year 1990. He said it now appears the maximum annual irrigation requirements will be about 6,384,000 acre feet in 2020.

This reduction, he said, will postpone by 20 years the time when a recurrence of a drought such as was experienced in the 1930s would require curtailment in the navigation season.

Johnson said in 1951 planned power installations amounted to a capacity of about 1,500,000 kilowatts, but that figure now has been upped to more than two million kilowatts.

The restudy indicated the average annual flow at Sioux City is now 24,400,000 acre feet, a decrease of about one per cent from the 1951 figure. Total water requirements are expected to reach 23,815,000 acre feet by 2020, leaving a slight margin of surplus.

Area Students Pledged at CMSC

Carol McCune, Larry Fred Wahlers, John Robert Buckley, Richard Allen Woodsmall, and Allen Eddie Williams have pledged social Greek organizations at Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg where they are students. Miss McCune pledged Theta Sigma Upsilon sorority; Wahlers and Buckley pledged Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity; Woodsmall pledged Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity; and Williams pledged Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity. The pledging followed the annual Greek letter organization rush week.

Miss McCune is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McCune, Route 1, Sedalia. She is a freshman and a music major. Wahlers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wahlers, 419 Hill, Sedalia. He is a freshman and an accounting major. Buckley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Buckley, LaMonte. He is a freshman and a business major. Woodsmall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Woodsmall, 1703 South Harrison. He is a freshman and a business major. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Williams, 719 East 24th. He is a freshman and a physics major.

DETERMINED—Margaret Gray finally saw the results of her work. A secretary attached to the Titan ICBM project in Denver, Colo., she took two weeks' vacation and traveled to Cocoa, Fla. There she watched the successful firing of a Titan.

National Health Chapter Holds Poster Contest

The National Health Federation Chapter of Sedalia is sponsoring the Third District Poster Contest and Coloring Book Contest on Correct Posture in observance of the National Correct Posture Week from May 1 through May 7. As for many years past, Correct Posture Week will be observed throughout the United States and Canada under sponsorship of the chiropractic profession and any other groups interested in the growth of national health standards.

Col. John Donnell, committee chairman of the poster contest, announced that more than 50 grade schools in a radius of 50 miles have been invited to participate in the poster contest. The three best coloring books (rural schools only) and three best posters on correct posture selected by the schools should deliver them to the Sedalia Public Library on or before April 25. Each contestant submitting a poster will receive a merit certificate. The children submitting the three best coloring books in the first three grades, two best posters in the fourth through the sixth grades and two best posters in the seventh and eighth grades will receive a wristwatch.

Judges for the poster contest will be Col. Donnell, Ruth Seifert, and Bert Heacock. Judges for the

Dr. Robinson Attends Optometric Meeting

Dr. David H. Robinson, Sedalia, attended the 58th annual convention of the Missouri Optometric Association, at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, in St. Louis. The meeting, held April 19-21, had more than 300 optometrists in attendance.

Feature speaker Sunday afternoon was John M. Dalton, Attorney General for the State of Missouri. He told the group that eternal vigilance may be the price of a good profession, and that it is through such associations as the Missouri Optometric Association, that standards are being raised, as well as public confidence.

A special program was also held for the ladies attending, and included a "Fashions in Eye Ware" program and a luncheon on Monday.

Mrs. Bobby Lee Asbury

Miss Patricia Mae Watring Is Wed to Bobby Lee Asbury

Altar vases holding white gladioli and pompons, and jade greens inside the altar rails formed the setting for the marriage of Miss Patricia Mae Watring and Bobby Lee Asbury, which took place at the Wesley Methodist Church on Saturday, April 25, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The double ring ceremony was performed by the church pastor, the Rev. Walter D. Niles.

Marking the aisles were white satin cluster pew ties.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Watring of Ottumville.

Mr. Asbury, Route 2, Sedalia, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Asbury, Pilot Grove.

Mrs. Mae Moser, 410 1/2 West Fourth, at the organ, played wedding music and accompanied Miss Opal Frances Carson of Ottumville, who sang "Ave Maria", "O, Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Her wedding gown of white French lace and silk tulle was fashioned with long tapering sleeves. Below a Sabrina neckline, a yoke of illusion was appliqued with lace and heavily embroidered with pearls and iridescent sequins. The very full lace skirt featured hip drapes of tulle and a wide panel of the silk which formed a chapel train. The bride's headdress was a small half hat of matching lace trimmed with pearls and sequins and to which was attached her elbow length double illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and stephanotis with white satin ribbon shower.

Miss Carolyn Allee of California, maid of honor, wore a gown of romance blue Chantilly lace over tulle, designed with low neck and cap sleeves. The bouffant skirt was ballerina length. She wore a matching headdress and her flowers were a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis tied with ice blue satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Wendell Meyer, Boonville, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Deo Van Marcum, Tipton, cousin of the bride and Miss Bunny Sue Asbury, Pilot Grove, sister of the bridegroom, wore dresses and headdresses identical to that of the maid of honor, and also carried cascade bouquets of white carnations and stephanotis with ice blue ties.

Edwin Walters, Jr., 1800 East Sixth, Sedalia, served as best man.

Wendell Meyers, Boonville, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Deo Van Marcum, Tipton, cousin of the bride, and John Earl Watring, Ottumville, brother of the bride were groomsmen.

Serving as ushers were C. W. Marcum, 602 East Boonville, Sedalia and R. V. Marcum, Ottumville, both uncles of the bride.

Debbie Marcum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Marcum, Ottumville, as flower girl, and Mary Frances Watring, daughter of Mrs. Jim Watring, Tipton, as ring-bearer, wore white brocade dresses with blue sashes and matching shoes.

The bride's mother selected a light blue lace over tulle dress for her daughter's wedding, with which she wore matching accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom wore rose lace over tulle with white accessories and her corsage was, also, of white carnations.

A reception was held in the church basement immediately after the wedding. Vases of white flowers were used in profusion in the dining room and the bride's table was centered with a large wedding cake encircled with garlands of roses and fern. On either side were lighted white tapers.

Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Jake Marcum, Smithton, Mrs. George Marcum, Ottumville and Mrs. Theodore Cockayne, Maryville, Mo.; Mrs. Edwin Walters, Jr., 1800 East Sixth, Sedalia, had charge of the guest book.

The couple left that evening on a wedding trip to Arizona and expect to return May 3.

For traveling the bride wore a black fitted suit with black shoes and purse, and a black straw hat trimmed with a white flower. Her gloves were white and her corsage was of red roses and white stephanotis.

The bride was graduated from the Ottumville High School in 1956 and attended Central Missouri Business College.

The bridegroom, after completing school in Pilot Grove in 1953, went into business for himself, and has the Asbury Lath and Plastering Co., 622 East Fifth.

The couple left that evening on a wedding trip to Arizona and expect to return May 3.

Horace Mann PTA Holds Final Meet

The final meeting of the Horace Mann PTA was held Friday evening in the school auditorium with Mrs. Worth Wilson presiding.

Mrs. Vernon Rodick gave the devotional, entitled "Spring Training."

Joe Forsee, representing the Boy Scouts of America, introduced William Hiatt, chairman of the Pettis-Saline district, who presented the charter for Horace Mann Boy Scout Troop 67. Mrs. Wilson accepted on behalf of the PTA which sponsors the troop. Registration cards were then presented the Scoutmaster and the members of the troop committee.

A very concise and informative historical report was given by Mrs. R. R. Conn Jr.

Announcement was made concerning the ice cream social and country store to be held May 8. Room count was taken and the awards went to Mrs. Hudson's Room 1 and to Mrs. Branson's Room 6. George Thompson, principal, presented Mrs. Wilson a past president's pin and thanked her for her fine work in carrying out the responsibilities of a PTA president.

Mrs. W. J. Ramsey then installed the following new officers, each receiving a beautiful American Beauty rose: president, Mrs. Lacey Belt; first vice-president, Mrs. Stanley Fisher; second vice-president, Mrs. Kenneth Fine; third vice - president, Mrs. Joe Long; secretary, Mrs. W. A. Kando; and treasurer, Mrs. E. L. Ringen.

Mrs. Belt introduced her chairmen for the new year as follows: program, Mrs. Stanley Fisher; membership, Mrs. Kenneth Fine; scrapbook, Mrs. Joe Long; publicity, Mrs. Raymond Harmon; devotional, Mrs. David Edwards; hospitality, Mrs. Bill Reid; social, Mrs. Jack Austin and Mrs. Frank Williams; parent and family life, Mrs. A. W. Haller; historian, Mrs. Pearl Stuart; evaluation, Mrs. Worth Wilson; civic, Mrs. Thelma Wheeler; budget and finance, Mrs. O. J. Durnell and Mrs. W. B. Hert; publications, Mrs. W. J. Ramsey; Founders' Day, Mrs. Fred Mark; home room mothers, Mrs. Bud Pratt; exceptional children, Mrs. Donald Trueman; and Dad's Night, Dr. Stanley Fisher.

Mrs. Frances Gilmore, music teacher, presented a large number of students in a fine musical program. This included the sixth and seventh grade chorus singing several numbers, closing with the novelty number, "This Old Man," cleverly pantomimed by Richard Anderson and Kinnard McKinney, with the chorus and a small instrumental group providing the background.

Those members of the orchestra who played in the all school concert were introduced and played several selections. Then the beginning members were introduced and played with the others in the final numbers. A fine violin quartet and a clarinet trio gave evidence of their talents.

daughter of the late Charles D. Middleton, former owner of the Warrensburg Star Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Westhusing, 3400 South Grand, have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Norma Faye, to John Hamilton Simmons III, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Simmons, Jr., 2306 First St. Terrace. The ceremony will take place June 6 at Sacred Heart Church.

Birthday Tea Given At Range Line Church

The women of the Range Line Presbyterian Church entertained the women of the Longwood Presbyterian Church Wednesday afternoon at a birthday tea at the Range Line Church. The subject for the program was "Brazil" and Mrs. Wilburn Hayes was program chairman. Mrs. Bernard Dotson gave the devotional.

There was a panel discussion led by Mrs. Jimmy Reid who was dressed in Spanish costume. Others participating were Mrs. Wayne Davis, Mrs. James Coffelt, Mrs. Paul Dial and Mrs. Davis Robb. Mrs. Bill Meyer, Mrs. Clinton Reid and Mrs. Buddy Kinder, all in Spanish dress served a variety of delicacies from a "table of sweets" while Mrs. Joe Bill Reid and Mrs. Paul Dial poured punch.

Of special interest was a display of souvenirs from South America which Tommy Chamberlin brought back when he was in the service. About 30 women enjoyed the event.

Young Musicians Club Holds Recital

The Young Musicians' Club participated in a piano recital at the home of Mrs. Jewell H. Thomas on Sunday, April 19, at 2 p.m. Students playing piano solos were: Cecilia Christal, Richard Lyles, Marty Rowles, Karen Hicks, Teresa Alpert, Nancy Downs, Anne Sillers, Ricky Huddleson, Linda LaVelle, Linda Wheeler, Chucky Christal, Dixie Kemp, Linda Wright, Cheryl Wahrenbrock, Janice Evans, Kathy Page, Janice Walker, Cynthia Stauffacher, Linda Orr, Cheryl Hieronymus, Mary Louise Anderson, Paula Neal, Mary Trumbower, Larry Lyles and Tommy Hudson. Piano duets were played by Cecilia and Chucky Christal, and by Richard and Larry Lyles. Janice Walker beautifully played a piece which is to be a competition number at the Missouri State Fair.

Black Jack Homemakers Club Meets

The Black Jack Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Frank Page, Jr., on April 15, with Mrs. Cleo Hampy as assistant hostess.

The president, Mrs. Cleo Hampy, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Mamie Cainer gave the devotionals.

Thirteen members answered roll call with "An easy dessert."

The committee composed of Mrs. William Trumbower and Mrs. George H. Page reported on a plan for the number to be given at the Music Festival. They received ideas and suggestions from the group on getting material for it.

Mrs. Earl Oehrke, 4-H community leader, told the club about 4-H Work Day and lined up several jobs for the 4-H members to do.

The county report was filled out and made ready to send in.

Mrs. William Trumbower told about the "First Aid Course" and it was suggested that she give it to the club members and those interested this fall.

Mrs. Kathryn Zimmerman's letter was read by Mrs. Lloyd Monsees.

Mrs. Claude Page and Mrs. Elmer Bass gave the lesson on "Unexpected Company Meals and Refreshments from a Freezer." They had each prepared a dish which had been served at the noon hour. One was buttered frozen broccoli and the other frozen cherry salad. They told about several of the dishes they had at the county meeting and gave each member a printed copy of them.

Mrs. Trumbower led the group in a game which had to be answered by different kinds of pies. Mrs. Homer Hampy showed how to make a litter bag for the car and then each member made one for their own use.

Club pal gifts were exchanged and also shrubs, flowers and bulbs.

The next meeting will be May 20, at the home of Mrs. George H. Page.

United Circle Meets At Tipton Christian

The United Circle of the Tipton Christian Church met at the church annex April 22.

The regular business of the circle was presided over by Mrs. Clay Howard. There were eight members present. Mrs. D. C. Hardy gave the devotional.

Refreshments were served by Lena Lademann and Phyllis Hostetter.

Surprise Dinner For Mrs. Laudenberger

A surprise dinner was given Sunday, April 12, honoring Mrs. Willa Laudenberger, 409 West Seventh, on her 80th birthday.

Mrs. Laudenberger went to church Sunday morning and when she came home she was greeted by 35 of her relatives who had gathered at her home, had prepared a delicious dinner and had it ready to serve.

It was a happy gathering and family reunion with some as far away as Arkadelphia, Ark., who came just for the day.

A group of girl friends of the family came in at noon to help in serving the dinner.

Mrs. Laudenberger received many cards and gifts from relatives and friends.

Demonstration Of Pin Cushion Given

A demonstration on how to make a wrist pin-cushion was given at the meeting of the High Point Hoppers 4-H Club, Monday, April 6, at High Point School.

There were 27 members attending the meeting.

The club will meet next month at High Point School on May 4, at which time a woodwork demonstration will be given.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ream of Sedalia, on April 8.

Guests numbered 27. Movies were shown during the evening and refreshments of home-made ice cream, cookies and coffee were served.

GRADUATION DRESSES

Graduation time is about here and we all thrill at the feminine dress for this very special occasion. This season has brought forth a riot of gorgeous styles and shades—each one looking more beautiful than the last. Most of the dresses are of dacron and cotton or pima cotton. Done in pastel shades such as maize, lilac, mint and our reliable pink and blue, they are all pretty. Scoop necks, tiny sleeves with fitted bodices and very full skirts with wide hems—we find it hard not to ooh and aaah at them. Some are trimmed with insets of frothy eyelet or lace; others with tiny pin tucks. White is not to be over-looked in this collection. Eyelet and linen with heavy lace trim too makes an exquisite dress. Pastel shades are ultra feminine so be sure your make-up is kept on the light side, your jewelry at a minimum and wear a delicate cologne. Save your heavy make-up and perfume for another time. Remember too, these luxurious looking dresses will be washable—therefore you can truly enjoy them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hampy Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hampy, the Whole World in His Hands" and Freddie Brauer, a grandson, sang "Silver Threads Among the Gold." The Rev. Linus Eaker, Methodist minister of Sedalia, received the honorees in their home south of Smithton where they have lived since they were married on April 8, 1909.

Mr. and Mrs. Hampy are both native residents of the Smithton community. They have three children, one daughter, Mrs. Ernest Klindworth of Hermitage, and two sons, Melvin of Smithton and Ira of the home. There are six grandchildren.

The serving table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with a three-tier wedding cake flanked on either side by three-branch candelabra holding gold colored tapers.

Angel food cake with golden frosting, ice cream, golden frosted punch, mints and nuts were served to the guests by nieces of Mrs. Hampy.

Mrs. Hampy wore a golden orchid corsage. Members of the family wore gold carnation corsages while the 24 persons who attended the original wedding were provided with golden chrysanthemum corsages and boutonnieres. The nieces in charge of serving wore white carnation corsages. Helen Frances Hampy, a granddaughter in charge of the guest book, wore a gold wrist corsage.

During a short program, A. L. Siegel, a nephew, sang, "Put On Your Old Gray Bonnet." Helen Frances and Shirley Jean Hampy, granddaughters, sang "He's Got

Hillbilly Jamboree Held by Dance Club

The Do-Do Club had a Hillbilly Jamboree at the last regular dance at Convention Hall with a large crowd in attendance. Callers for the dance were "Uncle Fud" (The Kissin' Uncle), John Loague; "Uncle Woody From Ten Per Town," Harold Woodall; "Kusin Morris from Greenridge Hollow," Morris Hynken; "Brother John from Coffeeville," John Vandekamp; "Two Gun Bob from Scoopville," Bob Weikel; "Pappy Herb from East Sedalia," Herb Winebrenner; "Brother Ray from Gobbler Creek," Ray McCoy; "Cousin Kenny from Gasoline Alley," Kenny Manns.

Arnold and Julia Fischer, Bill and Alberta Booth and Harold and Mary Lou Woodall received the prizes for the best hillbillys at the dance. Delores Werner won the door prize.

Sun bonnets and patches were used for one of the mixer dances, the idea to match the sun bonnet to the patches on the men's trousers. Fishing poles and fish were used as the other mixer dance, the men receiving the poles and the girls the fish, each to match the couple's number and square.

Refreshments were served by the committee, Ray and Jo McCoy and Johnny and Betty Loague. The table was decorated with a burlap cloth and a centerpiece of lowers in a piece of weathered wood with square dance figures on each side.

The next dance will be April 28 at Convention Hall. All guests welcome.

The birthday party held for the residents at the IOOF Home at Liberty on Sunday, April 12. Others attending the party from the Green Ridge Lodge were Mrs. Frances Baslee, Mrs. Verna Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Fletcher. They met their lady resident of the home and she was presented small gifts from Mrs. Baslee.

The program for the first meeting in May will be colored slides presented by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Palmer.

Space Study Falls Into Panorama

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Space scientists were likened today to the men who delved into the mysteries of time and found the earth older than they dreamed.

What the time detectives learned bolstered Charles Darwin's theories of human evolution.

What the space adventures are doing will fall into place as a major part of the scientific intellectual panorama which began before Darwin, and of which he was such a dramatic figure.

Links in this chain of evolutionary pioneering were traced in speeches and interviews by many of the scholars attending the American Philosophical Society's annual meeting. This year the society is observing the 100th anniversary of the publication of Darwin's greatest work, "The Origin of Species."

In the early 19th century, it was related, books on geology were gobbled up as books on space travel are today. Geology gave Darwin the frame and time pattern for his work.

But physicists calculated the earth could be only a few million years old. This was one of the main threats to Darwin's theories. It raised the question whether all the changes ascertained by Darwin could have taken place in such a relatively short time.

Although the question had not become a public issue, Darwin was worried. Some of his worries are reflected in the revisions he made from edition to edition of his books.

With the discovery of radioactivity, however, it was learned that the universe did not lose its heat as fast as had been thought. Physicists took this as proof of a greater antiquity of life. They admitted they had been wrong about the shorter time range. The shift opened up both past and future inexhaustibly.

"Darwin was pretty sure the age of the earth was greater than the physicists had guessed," said Dr. Loren Eiseley, author of "Darwin's Century" and one of the leading authorities on the famed naturalist. "He was ahead of his time. He realized that impressions of stability were due solely to our own short life span."

"Now we are tackling the wonders of space, another phase of the broad picture of man's evolution, physically and mentally. Certainly adaptability to new environments is part of the Darwinian story."

They're Growing Big: The Eggs, That Is

They're growing them big these days—at least out at the John R. Davis farm, Route 2, Cole Camp.

One of a flock of mixed cull chickens the Davises bought for broilers laid an egg weighing 6½ ounces. The egg measures 3¼ by 2¾ inches. Any way you measure it, that's a lot of egg.

A Large Majority of MANAGEMENT and LABOR Prefer Sunday Closing

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED STOP SUNDAY BUYING

There is a movement in America, supported by the President of the United States by his regular habit of church attendance, to restore the spiritual foundation upon which our country was founded.

The closing of stores on Sunday will enable fathers and mothers to worship God as a family unit and to spend a day together in real fellowship. Family stability is one of the best ways to overcome juvenile delinquency.

The national trend is for a five-day week and not seven. This has been proven beneficial for body, mind and soul for both employers and employees.

Closing of stores on Sunday will in the long run be more economical and profitable because of the higher cost of operation and overhead expenses involved in Sunday operation.

Church Unit Council Meet At High Point

By Miss Cora Cordry

OTTERVILLE—Those from the Presbyterian Church to attend the Harmony Parish Cooperative Council which met at High Point Friday evening were Jesse Parsons, Mrs. Dannie Glenn and Mrs. D. B. Mayfield. The Christian Education committee of the local church met recently to plan their program for the quarter, with Mrs. Jesse Parsons chairman, Miss Norman Schlobohm, Mrs. Thomas Nichols, Mrs. Dannie Glenn, the Rev. W. R. Firkin and James Wear are committee members.

The Westminster Sunday School class of the Presbyterian Church met Thursday evening at the church. President, Burford Jenkins opened the meeting with "The Lord's Prayer". Following the business session, refreshments were served to nine members by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Glenn.

Dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Romig were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. McMullen, Green Ridge; her sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Farris and her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon McMullen, LaMonte. Their son, Larry, who is employed at Richards Gebauer AFB, Grandview, spent the weekend at home.

Mrs. Omar Howard attended a dinner recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Armad Weaver, Sedalia, honoring the first birthday of her granddaughter, Michelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howard, New Orleans, La. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Orson Potter, Sedalia and Lt. and Mrs. Donald Potter, Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Leaton had as weekend visitors, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wheeler and Ann Harvey, Mulvane, Kan., and Robert Wheeler, a student from Emporia State College, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Woodall and Linda, Kansas City, visited Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woodall. In the afternoon, both families visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Garrison, Smithton.

Dinner guests Wednesday of Mrs. Omar Howard were Mrs. J. W. Howard and Michelle; Mr. and Mrs. Orson Potter; Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Weaver, Sedalia, Lt. and Mrs. Donald Potter, Dayton, Ohio.

The Rev. and Mrs. Farrie Cole entertained at their home Tuesday evening with a surprise party honoring his father, F. L. Cole, Sr., on his birthday. Guests were the honoree and Mrs. Cole; Mrs. Frances Sprinkle; Miss Vera Cole; Porter Cole; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cole and Marsha; Mrs. Ann Blakesley and Miss Sadie Homan. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Straten were weekend visitors of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Finley, Blue Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Shy had as dinner guests, her sister, Mrs. Pearl Gross, Windsor and Fred Neffendorf, Green Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Faucet and daughters, Kansas City, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gulick.

Mrs. Nancy Burford had as recent visitors, her daughters from Kansas City, Mrs. Nancy Hamel and Patricia and Mrs. Ruby Fleming and David.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Pippin, LaPlata is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Gant.

Mrs. T. J. Talley, Holden spent several days recently with her son.

OLD FRIENDS MEET—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Lady Churchill, wife of the British statesman, are in a jolly mood as they chat at London reception. Mrs. Roosevelt was the guest of honor at literary affair honoring the publication of her autobiography.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Talley. Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Talley, also from Holden.

Mrs. Mary Bishop is home from Boonville following a stay with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gochenour.

Mr. and Mrs. Ardie Bane visited recently in Fayette with their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Delgar Wells. They were accompanied by Mrs. Loren Bane.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lewis and family and Mrs. Emmet Lewis and Mrs. Lula Cordry visited in Warrensburg Sunday with Miss Agnes Bauman.

Wesley Coons and sons, Miss Annette Johnson, Villa Ridge, were visitors Saturday in the home of his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Marcum and family. Other visitors in this home are the York boys, four nephews of Mrs. Marcum, who are spending some time here.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lee and son, Kansas City, spent the weekend with his father, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lee.

J. P. Dunham, Sr., J. P. Dunham, Jr. and M. P. Dunham, III, spent some time Saturday evening in Clarksburg with Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Yarnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cooper spent Sunday in Green Ridge with Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fairfax and with his mother, Mrs. Jennie Cooper, who is spending some time in the home.

END OF THE TRAIL—The year-long merry chase of the flying bandit, Frank Lawrence Spreiz, is traced on crazy map above. It began in Akron, Ohio, where Spreiz, 29, was awaiting trial for his part in a holdup. It ended quietly in Yucatan when officers arrested him as he returned from a fishing trip to an offshore island. In the meantime, Spreiz kept police hopping over half the country as he made brief appearances in a score of cities. Hopping is the word, for Spreiz stole small planes as nonchalantly as he did cars. To add variety, he posed as everything from a college student to a member of the New York Giants football team, complete with an athlete's lettered jacket.

New Sound Can Kill You, Says Maker

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Los Angeles firm is developing an out-of-this-world sound — but it won't be heard on your hi-fi set or anywhere else.

This sound can kill you, said William Thomas, president of James B. Lansing Sound Inc.

He explains the sound is so loud that: "You can't hear it because you would be dead before you heard it. It's perfectly capable of destroying human tissue, and a human being subjected to such high frequency sound waves actually would be homogenized—or scrambled—in seconds."

Thomas described the firm's High Intensity Sound Simulator (HISS) as a major breakthrough in efforts to simulate tremendous vibrations encountered on a trip to outer space. Vibrations on such a trip are caused by high speed and shock waves.

Lansing Sound recently got contracts from two missile manufacturers to build similar noisemakers to test electronic components used in missiles. Thomas said HISS could be used in all fields of electronics to produce more reliable electronic components through testing by high frequency sound waves.

HISS' sound waves develop high frequency vibrations capable of rattling a building with an intensity greater than an earthquake, he added.

But, Thomas noted, the noisemaker couldn't be used as a death ray in wartime because sound waves dissipate rapidly in the atmosphere.

He gave this description of HISS. It is housed in a concrete structure weighing hundreds of tons and containing many high-powered loudspeakers, powered by seven 10-kilowatt amplifiers. These devices emit sound from the small end. The sounds travel through a horn, bounce off a two-inch-thick metal plate and are dissipated in a sink containing sound-absorbing material.

How loud is this big noise? Can't say, said Thomas, because no one has ever heard it.

Knob Noster Chamber Has Guest Speaker

Ross E. Anderson, Jr., service director for the Missouri State Chamber of Commerce, will be the featured speaker at the regular weekly organizational meeting of the Knob Noster Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be held Tuesday, April 28, at 7 p.m. at the American Legion Hall.

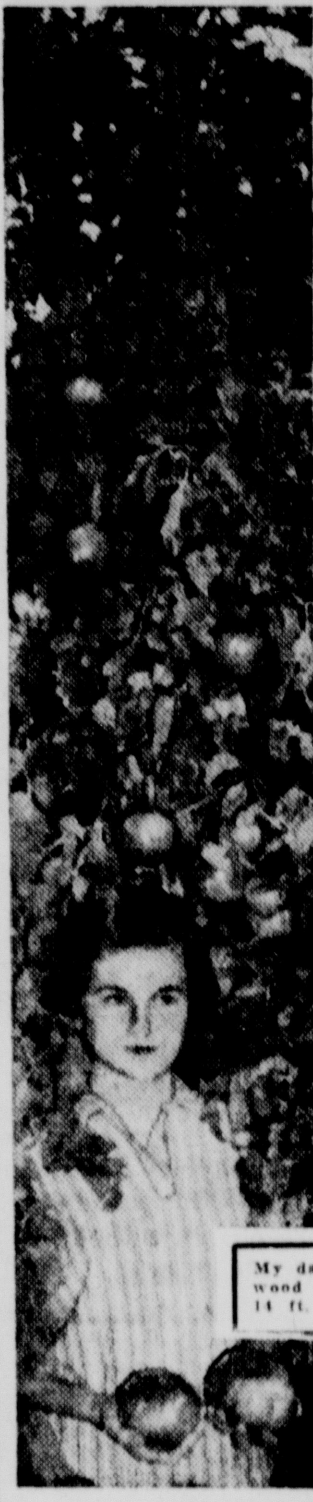

Anderson's topic for the meeting will be, "Building Knob Nos-ter Through Your Chamber of Commerce."

Anderson has wide experience in all aspects of chamber of commerce work, having served as manager of local chambers in Michigan and Illinois before assuming the post of service director with the Missouri organization about four years ago. Altogether, he has spent more than 13 years in chamber of commerce work. His address at the Knob Noster meeting is designed to give direction and impetus to the fledgling chambers program, aimed at building a better Knob Noster area.

Our Foreign Visitors

Firmly established in Sedalia's community mind is the beneficial effect of foreign students living among us and going to our schools. Primarily daily association is with children their own age group but during the school year these visitors also make contact with hundreds of adults before whom they appear at organization meetings to give talks about their own countries.

This American Field Service Student Exchange program which is sponsored locally by the American Association of University Women has flourished to the immeasurable benefit of better understanding between large segments of our population and those of other countries.

No one can compute the cumulative good will engendered by such youthful visiting personalities as Clio Tsa-teri, Esko Ollila, Kristian Kolberg, Judith Blythin, Tuula Janti and Claude Chaudron, the latter two under Rotary sponsorship during the past few years. All of them brought something to us, and in turn took home to foreign lands a concept in the hearts of grass roots Americans for world peace more understandable than before they came to visit in Sedalia homes and elsewhere in our country.

We wish Sedalia could bring more of these young people here each year, even if not for an entire school year. Burns, Kansas with a population of 310 seems to have succeeded in this objective where larger communities have been laggard.

Not long ago the Institute of International Education presented the people of that little community its coveted award for distinguished service.

The award was given for achievement of the Burns people in creating a home away from home for foreign students from all parts of the world. Since 1954, young men and women of every race, creed and color have been welcomed into the homes of the Burns farmer, the cabinet-maker, the minister, the businessman, the teacher. A foreign student characterized the distinctive little town in these words: "Burns is on the way TO and FROM everywhere."

The first visitors were 10 foreign students from the University of Kansas. Not only did they return, but they brought friends from campuses across the country.

In five years, 77 students from 37 countries—Hindus, Christians and Buddhists—have come to Burns not once but many times. The magnitude of this can be seen in a simple statistic—if the city of Sedalia, with its 28,000 population, had opened its homes on a comparable scale, it would have had 700 guests from abroad during that time!

In the meantime, until Sedalia can get into higher gear on the project of international understanding in the manner of the Burns, Kansas community, is it too much to hope the Exchange Student and Rotary program may be expanded and supported by our people?

How much better to support these projects than many wasteful promotions that drain our resources without any expectation of visible returns.

Politicos Stick to Shallow Water

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Farmers are now beginning to receive spellbinding attention from 1960 presidential candidates. The Democratic candidates, that is.

For the Republicans, Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson still plows away for congressional authority to lower price supports. He wants to cut production instead of raising bigger surpluses to put in storage bins, which now costs the government nearly a billion dollars a year.

Secretary Benson is also expected to present a new plan to Congress this month, calling for an increase in the soil bank to take more land out of production.

Vice President Nixon, leading GOP presidential possibility, as yet hasn't spelled out his farm program for the future. But in the past he has supported Benson's plans, which are President Eisenhower's, too.

Democratic hopefuls, however, are planting campaign promises wherever they think political seed will sprout.

Some of them seem as sterile as Eisenhower's 1952 campaign promise to give farmers "100 per cent of parity in the market place," which never amounted to a thing.

Sen. Stuart Symington was out in Topeka the other day to speak at the annual Kansas Democratic Club dinner. He said the Democratic Congress was now working on a bill to replace the bankrupt Benson program. This new bill was to have these four elements:

1. Give the farmer a fair price. (This is like being for home and mother.)

2. Give farmers the tools to compete closely organized segments of the economy. (What do you suppose that means?)

3. Bring farm production in line with realistic needs. (How do you do that without cutting price supports, reducing marketing quotas and acreage allotments?)

4. Face up to gigantic inventory problems. (All right. Only it would be helpful if some statesman would say specifically how he proposes to prevent them.)

Candidate John F. Kennedy was up in Wisconsin selling his campaign snake oil on the same day Symington was in Kansas. The handsome young Massachusetts senator had five points in what he called his "sound, PLEASANT HILL TIMES: The Gouge, In Spades.—The bargain, once the pride of American free enterprise, has come into disgrace.

Nowadays, the accepted way for any trade, semi-profession, profession or business to function is to get itself organized in restraint of competition. The exceptions are becoming rare.

Everybody beats a path to the state capitol with some handsome plan to raise the ethics, the public-service standards, the moral and educational requirements and the dignity of his particular way of making a living—and, incidentally (this is never mentioned) the prices.

The educational requirements of some professions and semi-professions have been raised to ridiculous levels. With fewer able to qualify, the incomes of the qualified become impressive indeed.

Another gimmick is to get written into the law somewhere that your particular means of making a living is so elevated that it must not advertise. This really hamstringing any would-be price cutters, and makes your business a gleaming example of ethical purity!

It's a bright new era we are forging in our state and nation.

Odds and Ends

For a long time she had been planning on her golden wedding anniversary next year. They were going to have "open house" and it would be a big affair. She had even talked some of the plans over with her daughter.

But this year she wasn't going to do much. The big show was coming next year. Then the afternoon of their anniversary, as some relatives were leaving after spending a few hours with them, her husband asked, "Did they say anything about today?"

"What about today?" she asked.

"Well, our anniversary?"

"No," she said unconcerned.

"How are we going to celebrate?" he wanted to know. "Shall we go out some place tomorrow and have dinner?"

"Oh, no," she said. "We will just have dinner at home." And she turned and walked away.

A little later he approached the subject again, to which she was still lukewarm. But this time he said what was on his mind. "Don't you realize that today is our golden wedding anniversary?"

"Oh, no," she said, "that's next year."

"Is it?" he questioned. "We were married in 1909."

She got weak. She thought her legs were not going to hold her up.

"1909," she echoed. "1909."

When she was able to telephone, she called her daughter. "Do you know that today is your Dad's and my 50th wedding anniversary?" she said.

"Oh, Mother," shrieked her daughter, "you told me it was next year!"

"I know. But we were married in 1909 and this is it. I don't know how I got mixed up."

So the daughter got busy. She called relatives and friends. She rushed out and bought yellow mints and gold napkins. She baked three cakes. And regardless of the fact that company came from Kansas City, she just kept on baking cakes. As fast as she got

Beware Dangerous Cliche: 'He Only Wants Attention'

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

He was told to apply his blue finger paint to his picture. Instead, he got a fingerful of green paint and smeared it across the picture of the little girl beside him at the nursery school table.

She hit him. They were hastily parted and he was invited to rearrange the dollhouse family instead.

As he shoved the mother doll under a bed, he said in a loud, clear voice, "We have a baby at our house. Being bad is the only way I can get attention."

This was not an original observation, but one he'd overheard grownups parrot from parent education books. As a new brother, it had impressed him deeply. For he often needed attention badly, and the grownups' idiotic phrase had told him the way to get it was by being as "bad" as he could.

So needing attentive help with his picture, he sought it by obnoxious behavior. The idiotic one baked, one of her children would ice it.

She called her brother in Chicago, who tried to get a corsage for his mother, only to find that there were no Sunday florist deliveries. So he got in touch with a friend by telephone, told him of his plight, and asked him to help. The florist friend fixed up the prettiest corsage he could, made a boutonniere for the Dad, and sent along a yellow rose plant.

It wasn't exactly the kind of an affair she had planned for next year. It wasn't "open house," because they didn't have time to let everybody know. But relatives and friends numbering more than 20 came. Refreshments were served from a beautiful table with a lovely centerpiece and all the trimmings and everybody had a wonderful time.—H. L.

Matter of FACT

Ancient Egyptian and Roman children played with marbles before the Christian era. Samples of their playthings have been found and are preserved in the British Museum. Pebbles and nuts were also used at that time by the Romans in a game very much like marbles. In Europe marbles were played in the Middle Ages. In England the game of marbles is believed to have come from a modification of a game called "bowls," very much like bowling.

Sparkling Democratic Asset

But 'Me Too' Johnson Could Become Democratic Dewey

By JOSEPH A. DEAR

Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Lyndon Johnson of Texas, as the majority leader of the Senate, is a sparkling Democratic asset.

But as a presidential candidate, and because of his enormous competence as a potential, Johnson could easily become a Democratic Dewey. For like Tom Dewey, whose competence was beyond question, Johnson is of the "me too" school of politics.

The "me too" type seeks office on the platform: I can do the same thing better. That was the Dewey line in 1948. He asked voters to put him behind the wheel for a safer drive in the same direction.

Johnson will use essentially the same pitch if he gets the chance. In fact, he uses it now.

At a dinner of the Women's National Press Club honoring the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Johnson said bold ideas would help, but that better execution of present foreign policy was more important still.

It is Johnson the tactician, not the idea man, who has dazzled Capitol Hill. In spite of rumblings from the liberal left, the Johnson regime has brought surprising harmony to the Democrats of the Senate.

It is as a tactician, and not a critic, that Johnson has confounded the Eisenhower administration. For example, Johnson produced a civil rights program that anticipated Eisenhower's. Johnson similarly whipped up a space program which stole the Administration's thunder.

He has scored again and again by issuing Administration programs in advance of the White House. He has been critical of the President on occasion, and the Democratic way often differs from the Republican, but the really significant fact to be deduced from the record is that Johnson is not a "no" man.

That is the virtue of the "me too" philosophy. It gives a fellow a chance to participate constructively in the affairs of state. To men of administrative genius, like Dewey and Johnson, this approach must be almost instinctive.

Sometimes, though, "no" is the right word for the loyal opposition to employ. To make its record, the loyal opposition must say "no" now and then. To preserve its integrity, the loyal opposition must say "no" if government policy seems wicked or unwise.

Your Child's Health

Youth Is Proper Time To Learn Good Posture Habits

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

It is depressing to see how many people there are with round shoulders, protruding abdomens or other forms of poor posture. In some of these, undoubtedly, the bad posture actually interferes with the health, perhaps by slowing the circulation of the blood.

The best time to make sure that the standing and sitting postures will be satisfactory is during youth.

Those responsible for the design of school furniture — and the designers of seats in buses, railroads, airplanes, movie theaters and other public facilities — are coming to realize the importance of comfortable seating which helps to build up or maintain good sitting posture.

But no one can help when it comes to standing but the individual himself.

There are three basic postures: standing, sitting and lying.

Good standing posture does not necessarily mean standing at attention as though on the parade ground.

As a matter of fact, long continued standing at attention slows the blood circulation and too much blood gathers in the lower extremities. This explains the fainting which sometimes happens to military men held at attention for long periods.

In ordinary standing the weight should be shifted from one foot to another and from the heel to the toes. If the body is allowed to make such shifts one becomes less tired and tense.

The body should be held erect with the knees and feet directed straight ahead. The abdomen should be held flat but not tense.

The shape and height of a chair or seat is important for proper sitting. The trunk and head should be held straight above the seat or tilted forward.

The height of the chair from the floor ought to correspond to the distance of the legs from the knee to the heel. The back of the chair should be straight but comfortably fitting. Comfort cannot be ignored.

Too low and too soft seats tend to cause poor sitting posture. Because we are not all built alike, adjustability of seats is desirable, though not always possible.

All of us spend a lot of time lying in bed. Many mattresses are softer than they should be. This causes too much relaxation of the "me too" type tends to underrate the importance of establishing the record against. During the Johnson years, Senate Democrats applauded President Eisenhower's Near East doctrine and the "unleashing" of Chiang Kai Shek. The National Democratic Advisory Council recently published a pamphlet criticizing the doctrine and the unleashing.

But because of Johnson's "me too" approach, the Democrats will have a hard time making mileage with expost facto criticism. It would hit too many of their own. In contrast, the Labor party of Britain will face no such problem. Its emphatic opposition forced the Eden government to terminate the Suez adventure.

There is risk in offering the voters a choice between starkly contrasting records. But there is risk in the "me too" approach. Mr. Dewey proved that.

It's Springtime In Washington, With Visitors

From Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — It is "the season" in Washington — spring time — and congressmen belong mostly to the visitors, and the visitors are mostly high school seniors making the annual pilgrimage.

Congressman Morgan M. Moulder (D) of Missouri's 11th District doesn't have a mass invasion as do some of the eastern congressmen, but he has a goodly share.

Presently, the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) is holding its annual congress in town and a bus load came from Missouri.

On May 7, the senior class (31 of them) from Slater High School in Saline county will arrive by train. On May 8 they, along with their principal, George Kendrick, will dine with Moulder at the Congressional Hotel.

Also on May 8, the Automobile Club of Missouri is sending 33 Missouri boys to Washington to participate in the 23rd Annual National School Safety Patrol Parade. Leon Hall, Jr., of Sedalia is scheduled to be in this group, which will meet with Congressman Moulder and be photographed on the steps of the Capitol.

some muscles and tenseness of others. Some backaches are produced from too soft beds.

If this is the case, innerspring mattresses may have to be eliminated. When the bed has too much sag, a piece of plywood can be placed under the mattress. Also, some manufacturers make "firm" mattresses.

Good posture also requires proper exercise. Exercise increases the supply of air to the lungs, improves the circulation and favors good health. Good upright position while walking is as important as good posture at other times.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Albert Kahn, former well-known clothing merchant in Sedalia, located at Los Angeles, was here visiting his brothers, Arthur and Sylvain Kahn of the St. Louis Clothing Company.

High Farmer Degree For Jerry Kempf

By Mrs. J. H. Coleman

PILOT GROVE—The Mary and Martha Class of the Pilot Grove Presbyterian Church School entertained Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Mattie Stites, who has been the teacher of the class for many years. The occasion was in observance of her birthday anniversary and was held at the home of Mrs. A. G. Olson. During the social hour Miss Mattie was presented a gift from the class. Members present were: Miss Mattie, Mrs. Ella Atkinson, Mrs. L. H. Judy, Mrs. Charles Schlotzhauer, Mrs. Milton Schlotzhauer, Mrs. E. J. Schib, Mrs. Lena Duermeier, Mrs. A. Winkler, Mrs. W. H. Deck, Mrs. Guy Long, Mrs. W. S. Burger, Mrs. Fred Hirst, Mrs. Olson and guest, Mrs. Charles A. Stites.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Jerry Ray Kempf, a vocational agriculture student at Pilot Grove, received State Farmers degree at the State FFA convention in Columbia. This is the highest honor given at the convention. Only students with outstanding supervised farming programs, good scholastic standings and leadership ability are eligible for this honor. Jerry is a member of the school FFA chapter and has taken four years of vocational agriculture. Kempf, whose instructor at the Pilot Grove School is Virgil Walden, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kempf, Booneville, and is a senior at the Pilot Grove High School.

Mrs. A. G. Paxton was hostess Friday April 17, to the W.S.C.S. of the Pilot Grove Methodist Church. Mrs. John Knipker read the scripture passage which was followed by prayer by the group. Mrs. J. H. Coleman as leader, introduced the subject for discussion, "Rapidly Growing Nations". She was assisted by Mrs. Lee Wolfe, who read "The Pride of Greater Freedom". Mrs. J. A. Brownfield, "An Age of Revolution". Mrs. Joe Rybak, "What Does Religion Do". Mrs. E. R. Pfeiffer, "Making the People One". Mrs. Less Babbitt, "Out-side and Internal Leadership", and Mrs. C. A. Stites spoke on "Christians and the Nations." Mrs. Babbitt conducted the spiritual lesson. Mrs. Joe Rybak presided over the business session. She appointed the nominating committee as follows, Mrs. Babbitt, Mrs. C. A. Stites and Mrs. Coleman. The hostess served refreshments after the closing of the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Harry Wilson will be hostess for May with Miss Mildred McCarty as leader.

Installation of officers for the coming year in the PTA was held Monday evening at the high school. Mrs. Virgil Walden had charge of the ceremony, installing Mrs. Marvin Schupp, president, Mrs. Ralph Bryan, Vice-president, Mrs. Eugene Jewell, secretary, and Mrs. Henry Stegner, treasurer.

The FFA and FHA gave the program. Sharon Bryan spoke on fire prevention and demonstrated their officer installation ceremony by installing next year officers as follows: president, Mary Young, vice-president, Martha Kammerich, secretary, Jeanette Kempf, treasurer, Barbara Kempf, historian, Dorothy Weasing, parliamentarian, Patty Schupp, and song leader, Bonnie Beau.

Mrs. Harole Deuchle, the new chapter mother, and the out-going chapter mothers, Mrs. John Nowlin and Mrs. Victor Spaedy, were presented roses. A gift of appreciation was given to their instructor, Miss Stockstill.

Donald Schupp, Ralph Schupp, David Horst, Dennis Stuckey, Jerry Kempf and Ray Twenter gave a demonstration of parliamentary procedure in a model meeting of the F.F.A.

A film, "How to Raise a Boy," was shown by Mr. Walden.

Mrs. Lee Wolfe was pleasantly surprised Sunday, April 19, when her children brought a contributed dinner to her home in Pilot Grove, honoring her birthday. Mrs. Milton Schlotzhauer baked the birthday cake. Those present were her daughters, Mrs. Maurice Kable, and Mrs. E. B. Kella, Kansas City, Mrs. William Lymer, Booneville, Mrs. Milton Schlotzhauer, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Schlotzhauer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Schlotzhauer and Randy, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schlotzhauer, Jr., and Susan Kay, and Mrs. Less Babbitt of the home.

Horst Graduates From Navy School

Gerald L. Horst, 426 North Brown, recently graduated from the Navy School of Disbursing at San Diego, Calif., and spent two weeks leave at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert T. Horst. He has been assigned to Yokosuka Naval Base, Japan, for a tour of duty.

Highlighted by Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe's first score since "My Fair Lady," M-G-M's "GIGI," winner of nine academy awards comes to the screen with an all-star cast. On the sofa are Leslie Caron and Louis Jordan. Standing are Maurice Chevalier, Hermione Gingold and Eva Gabor. An Arthur Freed production, the musical was filmed largely on locations in Paris in Cinemascope and color. "GIGI" starts today at the Uptown Theatre.

Class Reunion Is Held At Brauerville

By Mrs. Henry Junge

COLE CAMP—The first class Rev. R. Kranz instructed after coming to Brauerville had a reunion April 19 by attending services in the morning. Lay pastor Walter Kranz delivered an inspiring sermon and Rev. R. Kranz gave a short address. Beautiful flowers decorating the church were appreciated by the group as was the fine new organ.

A contributed meal was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Atwill Meyer where it was learned it was the wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. Kranz and the birthday of their granddaughter. The afternoon was spent taking pictures, a vocal solo by Eugene Beckman and conversation.

Present were Rev. and Mrs. R. Kranz, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kranz and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ziems, Higginsville, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Meyer and daughter, Blackburn, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kipp and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ehlers and daughter, Stover, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Henning and daughter, Mora, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Beckman and Eugene, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Tobaben, Cole Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bohling of San Bernardino, Calif., couldn't be present but sent an interesting letter. A call from Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Taylor, Kansas City stated illness kept them at home. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goosen spent the weekend in Springfield in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Logue.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Fajen visited in Sedalia Thursday through Saturday with her aunt, Mrs. Mary Eckhoff.

Larry Fajen of Kansas City spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Fajen.

Mrs. Lena Ebeling, Sedalia, spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Emilie Grother.

Mrs. Leo Boesch attended a conference at CMSC Saturday April 19th for campus and off campus supervisors. Mrs. Boesch is teaching first grade at Mark Twain in Sedalia and has been training student teachers from Central Mo. State College in methods and practice teaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Borman and children visited Sunday in Stover in the home of Charles Rapp.

Mrs. Emilie Grother spent several days this week in Sedalia with her sister, Mrs. Lena Ebeling.

Harold Renz, Coffeyville, Kan., visited with relatives Thursday and was an overnight guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gerken.

Walter Bockelman, Deepwater, spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Gerken.

Mrs. Wilma Ellis, Palmyra, Mo., spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Rena Spurgeon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Imman, Claude Knox, and Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Fajen attended the funeral of William Henry Vansel Jr. in Sedalia Saturday.

Mrs. John Grother, Mrs. Joe Vigus, and Mrs. Charles Miller were business visitors in Warsaw Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gerken and daughter visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Miesner and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gerken.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kreisel and sons visited over the weekend in the home of Mrs. George Kreisel.

Mrs. Charles Kersey, Mrs. Harry Bay and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Boesch attended the C.T.A. banquet held at Smith-Cotton High School Wednesday, April 15th.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Boesch attended the spring concert given by the students of Mark Twain School directed by Bob Cummings and Mrs. Mary Faulkner.

Miss Connie Boesch, a student at CMSC, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Boesch.

Mrs. Perry Kennedy, San Antonio, Tex., spent the past week with her brother, Ralph Schwald.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Miller and son Fenton of Lee's Summit, were weekend visitors with Mrs. Thersa Postel.

Miss Josephine Stelljes of Sedalia visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Granman and son, John Douglas.

Lana Turner's anguish over a lost stage role is assuaged by her boy friend, John Gavin. It's a scene from Universal-International's "Imitation of Life," based on the famed Fannie Hurst novel. Other leading roles are played by Sandra Dee, Dan O'Herlihy, Susan Kohner, Robert Alda, Juanita Moore and Mahalia Jackson. The production is in color. Now showing at the Fox Theatre.

The above scene was taken from the new technicolor musical hit, "MARDI GRAS," which stars Pat Boone, Tommy Sands, Gary Crosby and Christine Carere. Co-feature "FEAR STRIKES OUT," a drama starring Anthony Perkins. Both features showing tonight thru Tuesday at the 50 Drive-In Theatre.

Officers Installed By Houstonia PTA

The Houstonia PTA met at the High School Monday night. Rev. Hoppood gave the devotional. Mrs. Ralph Pauley presided at the business meeting. A report of the county council meeting was given by Mrs. Bernice Nutt. Mrs. Earl Gregory installed the following officers for the coming year: President Ernest Smith, vice President Mrs. Ralph Pauley, Secretary Mrs. Bernice Nutt, Treasurer Mrs. James Blackburn. Donald Grant introduced Arthur Summer, Columbia, who spoke on "Today's Education". Refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

American Business Women Hold Party

The Sedalia Chapter of the American Business Women held a card party at the home of Mrs. Goldye Creamer, 1001 West Third, on Thursday evening, April 16.

This was more than just a party, as each member was charged an admission fee, which made it a money making project for the chapter.

Canasta was played during the evening, after which refreshments were served by the members of the losing team in the attendance contest, of which Miss Gwendolyn

Wet or Dry, Bridges Is A TV Star

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Fannie Brice once said of Esther Williams: "Wet, she's a star; dry, she ain't." The same cannot be applied to Lloyd Bridges.

He was a noted actor in his own right before going under the briny in the successful TV series, "Sea Hunt." Since strapping on his aqua-lung, his career has boomed. "The series has certainly brought me more notice than anything I have ever done before as an actor," he remarked. "It has also brought me more money than anything else in my career."

"Artistic satisfaction? No, that is lacking. But fortunately, I am able to get it by doing other things when I'm not doing 'Sea Hunt.'"

The 'other things' are TV dramas, films and plays which make more use of his acting talents than the water-soaked TV show.

This summer he is touring in the big musical tents at Sky Master-son in "Guys and Dolls."

Can he sing? "I don't know; I haven't really tried."

Last year, he did "The Goddess" in his hiatus from "Sea Hunt." So far, he hasn't found a satisfactory script for a 1959 movie — "The nice part about having a series is that you don't have to take just anything that comes along."

It appears that he will enjoy such independence for some time. "Sea Hunt" is going into the last part of its second year of films, and the producers foresee a five or six-year run. The show has been a smashing success in syndication, yet the networks passed it up. "I guess they were all wrapped up in Westerns," Bridges observed.

The public has shown it is interested in adventure under the water as well as on the plains. The question is: How can they keep thinking up new plots?

Mutual Improvement Club Holds Dinner

The Mutual Improvement Club held a contributive supper on Saturday evening, April 18, in the dining room of the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church. There were about 60 members and guests present.

Following the supper, Mrs. Emmett Ruffin, chairman of the Literature Department, introduced Mr. and Mrs. Logan Sutherland of Windsor who showed slides of their European trip last fall when they went to visit their son, who was in the U. S. Air Force and stationed at Madrid, Spain. They also showed colored pictures of the World's Fair at Brussels which they attended. They also visited the Netherlands and Switzerland. Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland presented a very interesting program.

Americans Invest More Cash in Italy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

ROME (AP) — American business is investing more money in Italy with an eye toward getting inside the common market and into the growing trade with the Middle East.

But even Italian officials will admit the investment volume is much less than first hoped.

The American businessman is increasingly cautious. Some American firms already here can offer some possible reasons, based on their own problems.

Some Italian officials think that international tensions have been the chief but temporary road-blocks. They cite an apparent revival of confidence this year as a sign that investment by Americans is picking up and say that much talk of building plants here is under way.

There is even some hush-hush talk between American, Italian and French auto firms on joint production of a small car.

Still the Italian government is disappointed. It counted on getting the major share of American investment by firms moving into the common market area. This is the economic union of Italy, France, West Germany, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, which in time will remove all trade barriers between themselves and present a united tariff wall—of as yet unspecified height—to the rest of the world.

American plants within the six-nation area presumably would enjoy all the benefits, while those outside would find increasing competition in trading in the area.

Italy cites as advantages: Cheaper labor costs, growing consumer markets here, and cheaper transportation costs to the increasingly important markets of the Middle East.

But Belgium, for one, stresses lower taxes and other special inducements and the high skills of its workers.

Italian central banking officers think Americans were scared off for a time by France's troubles in Algeria and later by the Berlin crisis, both potential upsets of common market high hopes.

But private bankers cite special Italian problems. One is the large amount of government owned industry, dating back to Mussolini's days, often in competition with private industry. They also point to government interest in protecting local firms from competition with giant American companies which might come here.

The pharmaceutical industry is an example. The government doesn't want any but firms with new products not yet made here to come in. Italy, for instance, already makes all the penicillin it needs and Italy has about 1,200 small drug companies to protect.

Squibb, one of the American drug firms here, has been making its old and new products for several years, and is increasing its plant's size to make more—largely with an eye on the Middle East.

Matter of FACT

In ancient Greek times Aristotle observed that light traveled in a straight line. His curiosity was stimulated when he noted that the light that came through a tiny hole in the wall of a darkened room cast on the opposite wall an inverted image of the scene outside. What he saw was the phenomenon which makes the modern camera possible.

Gopher Is Most Cussed Out Rodent

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Breathes there a gardener with soul so dead who never turned the air blue with profanity at the sight of one of his prize iris plants disappearing down a hole?

And how many farmers and ranchers have spent hours trying to find where their irrigation water is leaking out of a ditch?

The whole business can be blamed on one ornery little rodent—the gopher.

The gopher, found all over North America, is probably the most roundly cussed-out rodent there is. What do you do about them?

Conservation men say there are a number of systems—most of which are a waste of time.

One is shooting the little rascals; another is trapping them. Neither has much effect on the crafty gopher population.

Two methods—usually employed by distraught gardeners verging on hysteria—hardly ever work.

One is sticking a hose down the hole and trying to drown Brother Gopher. The other is running a hose from the exhaust pipe of the car into the gopher hole. In both instances the gopher blocks off a number of strategic tunnels and retires to the south wing of his home.

A few systems work, say the rodent control boys, but even these are not infallible. One is cyanide bombs and the other is small box traps—baited with vegetables, cheese or maybe a pizza pie.

Most people who have battled gophers for any length of time, say there is one sure way to win: Move to an apartment in the center of the city—and make sure that place has no window boxes.
